President, Pearson To Talk Today

Will Put Finishing Touches On Pact To Erase Auto Tariffs

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, working and relaxing at his Texas ranch, awaited the arrival late today of Canada's Prime Minister Lester Pearson to put finishing touches on a pact to wipe out U.S.-Canadian auto tariffs.

Johnson and his visitor may be able to sign the agreement before Pearson leaves sometime Saturday. However, the U.S. Congress would have to pass special legislation before the agreement could be fully effective.

The pact, subject of months of negotiations, would abolish both countries' tariffs on new autos and new auto parts shipped across their common border.

Johnson, who flew to the ranch with his wife Thursday night for a three-day stay, expected to have relaxed, informal talks with Pearson. Most work on their major item of business — the tariff agreement — was done in advance of the meeting.

The two leaders have met face to face several times in the past 14 months, most recently at Blaine, Wash., on Sept. 16 when they signed a Columbia River treaty. Their meetings have been supplemented by seven or eight telephone talks.

Pearson was bound for the ranch from a Florida vacation.

Johnson was here not only to entertain the prime minister, but to push ahead with the drafting of the inaugural address he will deliver next Wednesday after taking the presidential oath.

Only a few aides accompanied the Johnsons on the flight from Washington. Their two daughters, Lynda and Luci, did not make the trip.

Signing of the agreement on auto tariffs was postponed several times by last minute haggling over details. But only a few details remained to be worked out in advance of Pearson's visit.

The pact would abolish an American tariff of 6½ per cent on vehicles and 8½ per cent on most parts. The Canadian duties that would be scrapped range from 17½ per cent on finished vehicles to 25 per cent on parts.

The latest figures, for the first time months of 1964, show $455 million of American vehicle and parts sales to Canada compared with Canadian exports of $46 million.

Widespread Concern For Former Premier

Churchill Has Blood Clot In Brain, Physician Says

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill today suffered a cerebral thrombosis—a blood clot in the brain—and there was widespread concern that the 90-year-old statesman might be at the end of the road.

A medical bulletin from his doctors said Sir Winston also has developed a circulatory weakness, which would appear to indicate that his heart is flagging or that there was a fairly general blockage of the arteries.

The medical bulletin, issued by his personal physician, Lord Moran, said:

"After a cold, Sir Winston has developed a circulatory weakness and there has been a cerebral thrombosis."

Sir Winston was 90 last Nov. 30.

"He's had a cold for several days," said Sir Winston's son, Randolph Churchill, from his country house at East Bergholt, Suffolk County.

Lord Moran, Sir Winston's private physician, said he would call at the home of Britain's great wartime leader late today.

After that visit—and a check-up—Lord Moran is expected to issue a medical bulletin on the health of his famous patient.

"He has his ups and downs. At his age every illness must be regarded as a serious one," Randolph said.

"This is a cold, however, and so far as I know, it's nothing more."

In the past, he has suffered a number of illnesses and had at least two strokes.

Invariably, he has bounced back, and birthday after birthday for the last five years or more, he has been able to totter to the ground-floor windows of his London home at Hyde Park Gate, smile and give his famous V-for-victory sign to well-wishers congregated outside.

On his last birthday, Lady Churchill, Sir Winston's Darling Clementine, held her husband's arm as he moved slowly to the window. He looked extremely pale.

After he slowly made his V sign with the first two fingers of his right hand, Sir Winston was gently led away by his wife.

Lady Churchill will be 80 in April.

Sir Winston, over the years, has recovered from many illnesses and a fall in which he broke his hip. Londoners have come to know him as Indestructible Churchill.

Since his retirement from the House of Commons last July, Sir Winston has been out of the public eye. His appearance at his window on his birthday is the only time Londoners have seen him for months.

Friends said that of late he often has complained of being cold. Increasingly poor circulation is said to be responsible.

A source close to the Churchills said that he has, of late, been taking one or more hot baths daily as a means of improving his circulation.

Three weeks before Sir Winston's 90th birthday he attended a dinner at the Savoy Hotel of a club he founded in 1911 called "The Other Club." He had to be helped in and out of his car and assisted to and from the private dining room in which the dinner was held.

Usual Signals Flying

Storm Brewing On Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has submitted a record low foreign aid request. But he has continued to lump military and economic assistance together and asked that the door be left open for more funds for South Viet Nam. So the usual storm signals are flying.

"Too much, too much," said Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the $3.38 billion Johnson called for in a special message Thursday to Congress.

"At least $1 billion, possibly $1.5 billion, too high," said Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a member of the Foreign Relations Committee.

But Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who has made a specialty of meat-axing White House foreign aid requests, was subdued. And Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee who has said he would not manage the bill unless military and economic assistance requests were separated, adopted a wait-and-see stance.

Getting a foreign aid request through Congress in recognizable form has been a test of every president's mettle since the program was instituted in 1948.

The $3.38 billion Johnson wants is the lowest presidential aid request ever, but it is more than $600 million above the $2.7 billion President Dwight D. Eisenhower was able to cadge out of Congress for fiscal 1955-56, and it is $130 million more than Johnson himself got last year.

Hearings are expected to start in the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which does not share Fulbright's views about splitting military and economic assistance and whose chairman, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., predicted Thursday that the bill "will have an easier time in the House than it has for years."

But foreign aid will have to run the gauntlet of three other committees and then the full Senate and House. Sparks are certain to fly, particularly over continued assistance to borderline friends, such as Indonesia and the United Arab Republic, and Johnson's request for an open-ended military-economic authorization for Vietnamese aid.

And Fulbright definitely does not stand alone in beating the drums for reform.

If Congress leaves the door open for the President on Viet Nam, he will be able to go to it directly later for appropriations for the antiguerrilla war without first getting authorization for the money in separate legislation. These appropriations would be in addition to the more than $500 million he wants earmarked for South Viet Nam and Laos.

This struck Morse, a persistent opponent of U.S. policy on Viet Nam, as "the sleeper" in the message.

"Obviously," he said, "this is a proposal for funds to make war in South Viet Nam, a war that has not been declared under our Constitution."

Preliminary Report Issued

County Planners Stress Industrial Development

The need for industrial development to aid Columbiana County's economic and population problems was underscored in a preliminary report issued at the County Regional Planning Commission's meeting Thursday night at Lisbon.

The report pointed out the county's key position in an industrial and transportation complex.

But the problems of out-migration of young people, a surprisingly birth rate in the last five years and a high percentage of workers who work outside the county were termed important and deserving of new study.

THE REPORT, prepared by several committees of county residents with the assistance of Eber Wright, Ashtabula County Planning Commission director, and correlated by H. F. Maturen of Lisbon, a research aide, was summarized by Wright last night.

A population study showed the county has fewer people in the 24-34-year-age bracket compared with the rest of Ohio. "The county is developing an aged population which must be considered in studying the dynamics of growth," Wright said.

The average age in the county is higher than the state, while the median annual income is lower, the report shows. Unemployment is close to Ohio's average.

"Perhaps the most significant of the statistics is the percentage of employment of the labor force outside of the county," the report stated.

"Columbiana County's 29.8 per cent, compared with the state's average of 11.3 per cent, should be studied in depth. From past experience a 'bedroom county' has and will continue to have financial problems in providing a financial base to educate its people and to conduct normal governmental services."

Labor Given Promise For Action On T-H

Hearings Scheduled On 'Right-To-Work Section Of Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several hundred AFL-CIO leaders from all over the nation headed home today to spread the word that organized labor has a promise of speedy action on its No. 1 goal in Congress—repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

This is the so-called "right-to-work" section of federal labor law that allows the states to prohibit contracts that require all employes to join a union.

Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House Education and Labor Committee told the 800 labor leaders attending a legislative conference that hearings will begin Jan. 25. He said the repeal bill would be sent to the House floor by March 1.

This was the first firm word of action on the measure. Previously, administration spokesmen from President Johnson on down had been vague about the timing of the repeal legislation, which is sure to set off a pitched battle in Congress.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., whose labor subcommittee will conduct the hearings, said:

"We are going to have a hard time. It isn't going to be easy." Johnson reportedly wants to get some other prime administration goals, particularly health care, out of the way before the 14B fight starts.

The health care for the aged measure reportedly still will get priority in the House.

Informed sources said the timing of the 14B repeal measure was worked out between Johnson and AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Powell stepped out ahead of Johnson and pleased the AFL-CIO leaders by announcing he will propose legislation on two prime labor goals still opposed by the administration.

One will be to increase the federal minimum wage from $1.25 to $2 over three years and the other to cut the standard work week from 40 to 32 hours over two years.

He said he expects to get these as well as all other labor bills before the House by March 1.

Shortcircuit Blamed In Conneaut Explosion

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—An underground explosion that hurled two manhole covers 20 feet into the air and shattered windows in the downtown area Thursday was blamed on an electrical shortcircuit in a conduit box below the pavement at Main and Harbor Streets.

Some 200 homes were without electric power for up to two hours, said a spokesman for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. The blast hurled chunks of ice and frozen earth through second-story windows of the Eagles Lodge and a hardware store.

Fire Claims Two Women In Hospital

Work Of Firemen Saves 1,000 Other St. Louis Patients

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A brief, but blistering, general-alarm fire killed two women patients Thursday night at the State Mental Hospital. More than 1,000 other patients were threatened but quick work by firemen and others prevented greater tragedy.

About 1,200 patients, some in wheelchairs, were removed into sub-freezing temperatures from a women's dormitory and then sheltered temporarily in a nearby auditorium.

Most of them wore only night clothes and were barefoot although some managed to drape blankets around them. A majority of the patients were evacuated within 30-minutes after the blaze was discovered.

"We were very lucky it wasn't much worse," said Robert Blackburn, assistant to the mayor. "Only quick work by firemen prevented it from becoming a terrible disaster."

The first alarm sounded at 9:22 p.m. in the long, rambling, five-story brick building, which is almost 100 years old.

The blaze broke out in a linen closet on the third floor of the dormitory and spread rapidly through a room with nine beds into a hallway.

Cause of the fire and an estimate of the damage were not immediately determined.

Firemen at a nearby station house have long familiarized themselves with the buildings of the sprawling South St. Louis hospital complex for such an emergency. The complex houses

Steel Union Refuses To Extend Pact

CHICAGO (AP)—The wage-policy committee of the United Steelworkers Union has unanimously approved a report against extending the May 1 deadline for reaching contract agreements with the nation's steel producers.

The union had been asked by the steel companies to extend the May 1 deadline of the current contracts because negotiations had been interrupted by the USW's campaign for election of a president.

However, the 170-man wage policy committee Thursday rejected the request.

David J. MacDonald, USW president is opposed by I. W. Abel, the union's secretary, for the presidency of the million-member union in the Feb. 9 balloting. Negotiations in Pittsburgh were recessed last week until after the election.

A statement by the wage policy committee said in part:

In commenting on the negotiations to date, MacDonald said there has been slight progress with some of the smaller steel companies, but that the bargaining thus far "generally has been an exercise in clearing the air."

The wage - policy committee statement said there had been

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two Americans were killed and two injured today when their helicopter hit a power line while escorting a road convoy nine miles north of Saigon.

The pilot, an enlisted gunner and a Vietnamese observer died in the crash. The co-pilot and another gunner were injured, and the co-pilot was reported in serious condition.

The crash apparently was accidental. No hostile ground fire was reported.

The deaths raised the number of American servicemen killed in Viet Nam from causes other than enemy action to 109 since December 1961. Another 249

Another Proposal Seeks Removal Of Tax On Groceries

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bills to raise salaries of public school teachers with college degrees by $100 a month, remove the retail sales tax from groceries and prescribed drugs and abolish statewide summer Daylight Saving Time were introduced in the West Virginia Legislature today.

These were among 15 more bills introduced in the House as the legislature held brief morning meetings before adjourning until Tuesday, the day after the inauguration of Gov-elect Hulett Smith.

Del. J. Paul England, D-Wyoming, introduced the teacher pay bill. For teachers with college degrees, it would provide more liberal raises in base pay than are provided for in the budget bill to be submitted to the legislature by the Board of Public Works.

Unlike the board's proposals, however, England's bill would give no raises to non-degree teachers. No cost estimate on his bill was available.

Rasies of $100 a month would boost minimum legal monthly pay levels to $450 for bachelor's degrees, $490 for master's degrees and $495 for doctor's degrees. Teachers are paid 9½ months a year.

The board is recommending an increase of $9.6 million in state funds for public schools next fiscal year, of which $6.5 million would go to raise the base pay of the 17,000 teachers.

The board-recommended outlay would raise minimum starting salaries by $60 a month for doctor's degrees, $50 for master's degrees, $40 for bachelor's

County Levy For Retarded Due On Ballot

LISBON — County Commissioners agreed Thursday to seek renewal of a two-tenths mill levy at the May primaries to finance operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton and a sheltered workshop.

The request to seek the renewal was made by Robert Bycroft, director of the County Welfare Department and head of the retarded children's program.

The commissioners agreed to seek a five-year renewal of the levy, which produces about $45,000 annually. The present levy for the same amount is scheduled to expire this year. It was voted for three years.

The commissioners also cited a portion of a written opinion received from Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis in connection with the board's decision last week to make a cash settlement with three former county employes.

The commissioners said the opinion said in part: "It is therefore my opinion that you have a legal right to settle the three cases in question. The amount of payment or settlement, if any, is solely within the discretion of your board. The payment of any amount

To Assure Pursuit Of Peace

Johnson Asks Extension Of Arms Control Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to extend the life of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency for four years to "assure the continuing leadership of the United States in the purposeful pursuit of peace."

Congressional approval of the recommendation, along with the President's request for $55 million for the agency's expenses over the next four years, appeared certain.

Johnson told Congress a determined effort to halt the spread of nuclear weapons over the world is essential to the security of the United States. He made clear that nonproliferation is a foremost objective of his disarmament policy.

Despite the vast defensive power of this country, the President said in letters to the House and Senate, the effort to stop the spreading of nuclear weapons "is essential to our security, for a continued increase and spread of modern weapons can actually decrease our security."

An accompanying letter by agency Director William C. Foster said the legislation will be required to keep the agency operating because the present authorization does not provide adequate funds beyond the end

This was the first firm word of action on the measure. Previously, administration spokesmen from President Johnson on down had been vague about the timing of the repeal legislation, which is sure to set off a pitched battle in Congress.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., whose labor subcommittee will conduct the hearings, said:

"We are going to have a hard time. It isn't going to be easy." Johnson reportedly wants to get some other prime administration goals, particularly health care, out of the way before the 14B fight starts.

The health care for the aged measure reportedly still will get priority in the House.

Informed sources said the timing of the 14B repeal measure was worked out between Johnson and AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Powell stepped out ahead of Johnson and pleased the AFL-CIO leaders by announcing he will propose legislation on two prime labor goals still opposed by the administration.

One will be to increase the federal minimum wage from $1.25 to $2 over three years and the other to cut the standard work week from 40 to 32 hours over two years.

He said he expects to get these as well as all other labor bills before the House by March 1.

Shortcircuit Blamed In Conneaut Explosion

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—An underground explosion that hurled two manhole covers 20 feet into the air and shattered windows in the downtown area Thursday was blamed on an electrical shortcircuit in a conduit box below the pavement at Main and Harbor Streets.

Some 200 homes were without electric power for up to two hours, said a spokesman for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. The blast hurled chunks of ice and frozen earth through second-story windows of the Eagles Lodge and a hardware store.

Fire Claims Two Women In Hospital

Work Of Firemen Saves 1,000 Other St. Louis Patients

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A brief, but blistering, general-alarm fire killed two women patients Thursday night at the State Mental Hospital. More than 1,000 other patients were threatened but quick work by firemen and others prevented greater tragedy.

About 1,200 patients, some in wheelchairs, were removed into sub-freezing temperatures from a women's dormitory and then sheltered temporarily in a nearby auditorium.

Most of them wore only night clothes and were barefoot although some managed to drape blankets around them. A majority of the patients were evacuated within 30-minutes after the blaze was discovered.

"We were very lucky it wasn't much worse," said Robert Blackburn, assistant to the mayor. "Only quick work by firemen prevented it from becoming a terrible disaster."

The first alarm sounded at 9:22 p.m. in the long, rambling, five-story brick building, which is almost 100 years old.

The blaze broke out in a linen closet on the third floor of the dormitory and spread rapidly through a room with nine beds into a hallway.

Cause of the fire and an estimate of the damage were not immediately determined.

Firemen at a nearby station house have long familiarized themselves with the buildings of the sprawling South St. Louis hospital complex for such an emergency. The complex houses

Steel Union Refuses To Extend Pact

CHICAGO (AP)—The wage-policy committee of the United Steelworkers Union has unanimously approved a report against extending the May 1 deadline for reaching contract agreements with the nation's steel producers.

The union had been asked by the steel companies to extend the May 1 deadline of the current contracts because negotiations had been interrupted by the USW's campaign for election of a president.

However, the 170-man wage policy committee Thursday rejected the request.

David J. MacDonald, USW president is opposed by I. W. Abel, the union's secretary, for the presidency of the million-member union in the Feb. 9 balloting. Negotiations in Pittsburgh were recessed last week until after the election.

A statement by the wage policy committee said in part:

In commenting on the negotiations to date, MacDonald said there has been slight progress with some of the smaller steel companies, but that the bargaining thus far "generally has been an exercise in clearing the air."

The wage - policy committee statement said there had been

Craft Hit Power Line Near Saigon; No Hostile Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two Americans were killed and two injured today when their helicopter hit a power line while escorting a road convoy nine miles north of Saigon.

The pilot, an enlisted gunner and a Vietnamese observer died in the crash. The co-pilot and another gunner were injured, and the co-pilot was reported in serious condition.

The crash apparently was accidental. No hostile ground fire was reported.

The deaths raised the number of American servicemen killed in Viet Nam from causes other than enemy action to 109 since December 1961. Another 249

To Assure Pursuit Of Peace

Johnson Asks Extension Of Arms Control Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to extend the life of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency for four years to "assure the continuing leadership of the United States in the purposeful pursuit of peace."

Congressional approval of the recommendation, along with the President's request for $55 million for the agency's expenses over the next four years, appeared certain.

Johnson told Congress a determined effort to halt the spread of nuclear weapons over the world is essential to the security of the United States. He made clear that nonproliferation is a foremost objective of his disarmament policy.

Despite the vast defensive power of this country, the President said in letters to the House and Senate, the effort to stop the spreading of nuclear weapons "is essential to our security, for a continued increase and spread of modern weapons can actually decrease our security."

An accompanying letter by agency Director William C. Foster said the legislation will be required to keep the agency operating because the present authorization does not provide adequate funds beyond the end

Only Those With Degree Due Boost

Another Proposal Seeks Removal Of Tax On Groceries

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bills to raise salaries of public school teachers with college degrees by $100 a month, remove the retail sales tax from groceries and prescribed drugs and abolish statewide summer Daylight Saving Time were introduced in the West Virginia Legislature today.

These were among 15 more bills introduced in the House as the legislature held brief morning meetings before adjourning until Tuesday, the day after the inauguration of Gov-elect Hulett Smith.

Del. J. Paul England, D-Wyoming, introduced the teacher pay bill. For teachers with college degrees, it would provide more liberal raises in base pay than are provided for in the budget bill to be submitted to the legislature by the Board of Public Works.

Unlike the board's proposals, however, England's bill would give no raises to non-degree teachers. No cost estimate on his bill was available.

Rasies of $100 a month would boost minimum legal monthly pay levels to $450 for bachelor's degrees, $490 for master's degrees and $495 for doctor's degrees. Teachers are paid 9½ months a year.

The board is recommending an increase of $9.6 million in state funds for public schools next fiscal year, of which $6.5 million would go to raise the base pay of the 17,000 teachers.

The board-recommended outlay would raise minimum starting salaries by $60 a month for doctor's degrees, $50 for master's degrees, $40 for bachelor's

County Levy For Retarded Due On Ballot

LISBON — County Commissioners agreed Thursday to seek renewal of a two-tenths mill levy at the May primaries to finance operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton and a sheltered workshop.

The request to seek the renewal was made by Robert Bycroft, director of the County Welfare Department and head of the retarded children's program.

The commissioners agreed to seek a five-year renewal of the levy, which produces about $45,000 annually. The present levy for the same amount is scheduled to expire this year. It was voted for three years.

The commissioners also cited a portion of a written opinion received from Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis in connection with the board's decision last week to make a cash settlement with three former county employes.

The commissioners said the opinion said in part: "It is therefore my opinion that you have a legal right to settle the three cases in question. The amount of payment or settlement, if any, is solely within the discretion of your board. The payment of any amount

Prognosis: Patient Will Live

UN Expected To Survive Despite Recent 'Illness'

By MAX HARRELSON
An AP News Analysis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — There's a lot of talk about the precarious state of the United Nations' health, but the prevalent prognosis at headquarters is that the patient will live.

Most U.N. diplomats believe that neither a U.S.-Soviet showdown on peacekeeping assessments nor the withdrawal of Indonesia from the world organization will be fatal. But there may be some scars.

The United Nations was given up for dead several times in the past but made suprising recoveries.

This happened in 1960 when the Russians began a general boycott of U.N. meetings in an attempt to force the seating of Red China. It happened again in 1956 at the time of the Hungarian Suez crises.

Other critical periods for the organization were in 1960 when Nikita Khrushchev launched his so-called "troika" plan to replace the secretary-general with a three-man executive group, and in 1961 when Dag Hammarskjold was killed in an African plane crash.

Each time gloom settled over U.N. headquarters. Dire predictions were heard, just as now. Some of the more pessimistic are recalling events leading to the collapse of the League of Nations and noting certain similarities.

They could be right. But a majority of U.N. diplomats diagnose the case this way:

If the General Assembly votes to uphold the U.S. position and suspend the voting rights of the Soviet Union, France and 16 other countries, there may be walkouts and other gestures of protest. But there will be no mass withdrawal from the United Nations.

If the Russians win, the United States would be embarrassed and might even cut its financial support of the U.N. to some extent. But it would not go so far as to wreck the organization.

One indication that the Russians do not expect the U.N. to collapse is the fact that they have made two contributions in the past four weeks totaling $5 million. They might have held off if they had been expecting to withdraw.

In some ways, the organization has shown signs of strength in the midst of the current crisis. Many of its specialized agencies continue to expand and have launched ambitious plans for the future. U.N. membership continues to grow. Last month three new countries were admitted.

And the reaction to Indonesia's withdrawal must have been extremely disappointing to President Sukarno. With the exception of Red China, which itself is outside the organization, Indonesia got no support. No country showed any inclination to follow.

Kennedy Letter Written At Age 15 Sells For $2,700

NEW YORK (AP) — A personal letter written by John F. Kennedy when he was 15 years old sold for $2,700 at an auction Thursday night.

A 1963 letter by former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev brought $1,675. It was written to the president of Bolivia and stressed the importance of peaceful coexistence.

Sixteen items in the sale bearing the autograph of the late President Kennedy sold for a total of $9,045.

A total of 212 famous signatures were sold at the auction for $55,827.50.

Kennedy's boyhood letter was written to a close friend while he was a student at Choate School in Connecticut. The future president bragged in the letter about the number of girls his school attracted to a dance and complained about a beating a student councilman administered to him.

Newspaper Advertising Sets Record During '64

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Newspaper advertising revenue reached a new high in 1964 with an estimated total of $4.1 billion, the newly - elected president of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association said Thursday.

"We appear to have broken our record set in 1963, which was also a record year, added Robert J. Alander, advertising manager of the Charlotte, N.C., News and Observer.

Alander delivered the keynote address at the start of the association's 94th sales conference here.

He credited the success of newspapers as an advertising medium to their record of customer service.

"What we really sell," Alander told the more than 1,000 delegates, "is believability, good taste, dependability and integrity. These are the cornerstones on which American newspapers are founded."

He told the sales executives that a survey by the A. C. Nielsen Co. shows newspapers offer advertisers their best medium for reaching into upper-income homes. In the past newspapers haven't done an effective job of making clear to potential advertisers their sales power in relation to the above - average earner.

The Nielsen survey shows 43 per cent of those spending the most time watching television live in households earning less than $5,000 a year, he said.

"By comparison, newspapers reach 96 per cent of households earning between $8,000 and $10,000 a year," he said. "Even so, newspapers still reach 77 per cent of the homes below $5,000 a year incomes.

Nasser, 47 Today, Beset By Economic Headaches

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser observed his 47th birthday today beset by economic headaches but firmly established as the most influential leader in the Arab world.

And there is little doubt the major economic crisis facing Egypt will continue to fall squarely on Nasser's shoulders for some years ahead. He is certain to be re-elected for another five-year term next March.

From the Egyptian point of view, Nasser can look back on some solid achievements during his 12-year rule.

He nationalized the highly profitable Suez Canal, won Soviet aid for construction of the giant Aswan Dam, pushed job-creating industrialization of his agrarian land and doubled primary education.

In foreign affairs, Nasser has put Egypt on the map, a force in Arab and African affairs to be reckoned with by Western governments. And he has raised Egypt's stature by hosting a series of conferences for Arab, African and the world's "non-aligned" leaders.

But Western diplomats in Cairo feel some of these achievements have contributed to the economic crisis Nasser now faces.

Industrialization has created consumer demand and increased prices. Spare parts for industry have been paid for by short - term loans which are coming due.

An exploding population has added to the strain, creating increasing food shortages and contributing to the inflationary spiral.

Loans from abroad staved off the developing crisis at first. When they fell due, Nasser contracted for new loans to cover the old ones. Outstanding credits now are estimated at well over $100 million, with foreign banks reluctant to extend more till they are cleared.

The government reportedly sold more than $30 million worth of its gold reserves abroad last month, winning a brief breathing spell but further undermining confidence in the Egyptian pound.

And the annual equivalent of $130 million worth of surplus food shipments from the United States is in jeopardy because of a series of anti-American incidents in Cairo and public anti-American talk from Nasser.

2 At Weirton Club Cited In Sheriff's Raid

Continuing a clampdown on illegal activities, Hancock County deputy sheriffs cited two employes of a Weirton club on three charges after a raid Thursday night.

However, no violations were found in raids on two other Weirton establishments.

In a raid on the I.V.P. Club on N. 20th St., deputies confiscated gaming devices and liquor and charged Joe Morgan with possession of gaming devices and possession of alcoholic liquor and Stella Maceynak with sale of alcoholic liquor.

Morgan posted a $500 bond and the woman posted a $100 bond for hearings Monday morning before Squire John D. Herron in New Cumberland.

Deputies seized three slot machines, a "Sweet Sixteen" clock, 12 full fifths of liquor and 13 partially-filled whisky bottles.

The raiders used search and seizure warrants to conduct the raids, which also included Rick's Club on Pennsylvania Ave. and Peoples' Restaurant, where no violations were uncovered.

The raids were the second in two nights. Deputies cited eight defendants in six taverns, five of them in Weirton, on Wednesday night. All posted $164 bonds for hearings Monday morning.

A Weirton bartender is due for a hearing today before Squire Herron after being arrested Tuesday night by plainclothes deputies on a sight violation.

have been killed in action against the Communist Viet Cong.

Communist terrorists Thursday night attacked downtown Thu Dau Mot, 15 miles north of Saigon, exploding two mines and throwing several grenades. At least five Vietnamese civilians were killed and 20 wounded. One of the blasts decapitated one of the terrorists.

There were indications in Saigon that anti-government demonstrations may soon be halted. Two representatives of a central Vietnamese student group opposing the civilian government called on the chief of state, Phan Khac Suu.

About 300 leading Buddhist monks have been meeting at their Saigon headquarters the past two days, planning new strategy. The monks apparently were intent on a continued anti-government line, but informants said the monks were trying to halt demonstrations.

During the past week, demonstrations and anti-government strikes have been staged daily in Da Nang, Quang Tri and other coastal towns, calling for the ouster of Premier Tran Van Huong.

In Seoul, South Korean Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun told a news conference the dispatch of 2,000 non-combat South Korean soldiers to South Viet Nam would not provoke hostile acts across Korea's demilitarized line by North Korea or Communist China.

"It is not because they (the Communists) like us that they have been quiet along the truce zone, but simply because we and the U.N. forces maintain a strong deterrent power," Kim said.

The South Korean National Assembly still must approve sending the troops. It is expected to take action early next week.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Olsen said the fire was so hot that it held the firemen back for a few moments, despite their masks and protective fire suits. But once they caught up with the blaze in the hallway, they put it out almost immediately.

One fireman suffered a minor case of smoke inhalation.

The dead were identified as Miss Brenda Robinson, 19, and Mrs. Ruth Lucks, 62. Both apparently were victims of smoke inhalation, authorities said.

After the fire was out, most of the patients returned to wards in the wing that were not damaged. Others were housed in the gym, cafeteria, canteens and corridors with cots and blankets supplied by the Red Cross.

About 150 student nurses in training at the hospital had staged a practice fire drill in the building only hours before the blaze broke out.

30-Day Term Given Man On Bar Incident

Everett E. London of Newell was ordered today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to serve a 30-day County Jail term on three charges filed after a hectic incident Wednesday night at the Diamond Restaurant in which he allegedly:

Upset and broke a jukebox, causing $90 damage.

Slugged a male patron without provocation and then hit a woman whom he admitted he never had seen before.

London, a resident of the Chester - Newell Rd., also was charged with intoxication under the state law. He was arrested Wednesday night at 10:28 in the tavern by Patrolmen Paul C. Blevins and W. F. Copestick.

London pleaded guilty to all three counts today but said he did not remember anything that happened after 6:30, when he ate his supper at home. He said he started drinking Wednesday afternoon, when he consumed "three or four quarts of beer" at home, but he could not recall what else he had to drink.

Judge Chertoff sentenced London to the 30-day term on the charge of malicious destruction of property filed in connection with damage to the music box owned by Hune, Inc., of W. 8th St.

He gave the defendant a 10-day concurrent jail term on a charge of assault and battery on Goldie Brenneman and fined him $25 and costs on the intoxication charge.

If London makes restitution for the damage to the music box the court will consider an earlier release from the County Jail, Judge Chertoff commented.

When the charge of striking the woman was read to him, London replied: "I never saw the lady before."

Officer Copestick testified he and Officer Blevins were dispatched to the tavern on a report of a disturbance.

They found London holding the woman by the blouse with his fist drawn back to strike her, he said. The officers were told London also had hit an unidentified man who was seated in a booth, he said. The juke box was lying on the floor, broken, he added. London told the judge he is retired and he and his wife live on $127-a-month Social Security.

Hoffa Due To Attend Affair In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, whose last visit to Cincinnati was to listen to arguments on his appeal from a jury-tampering charge, comes to town today for a more pleasant reason. Hoffa and other teamsters brass are appearing tonight at a testimonial for Sam Butcher, who retired Dec. 31 after 23 years as president of Teamsters Local 850.

Butcher, who joined the Teamsters in 1913, said Thursday night he is flattered by Hoffa's visit. "I've had lots of arguments about Mr. Hoffa," he said of his controversial boss. "But I'll always go down the line with Jimmy. He's a part of me and will be until my dying day."

City Motorist Cited In Weirton Collision

James R. Hickman, 21, of East Liverpool was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way following a two-car collision late Thursday afternoon on Main St. in Weirton.

Police said Hickman pulled from a parking lot and struck a car operated by James L. Spencer, 38, of New Cumberland R.D. 1.

of the present fiscal year, June 30.

"Attempts directed toward arms control and other measures to lessen the threat of war are no longer Utopian dreams," Foster said.

He added: "The work of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency has become an integral part of our over-all national security policy. Armaments alone can no longer increase security; the unchecked increase of these weapons of mass destruction can only diminish our safety in the hope for peace."

Johnson noted that four years ago the United States became the first nation in the world to establish such an agency.

He said it had a good record of achievement, citing the conclusion in 1963 of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty by the United States, Soviet Union and Britain. The treaty, which bans all but underground tests, now has been signed by a total of 107 nations. France and Red China have not signed. They are the only nations in addition to the United States, Soviet Union and Britain who have nuclear weapons or are building them.

Furthermore, Johnson said, the United States has established a direct communications link between Washington and Moscow — popularly known as the Hot Line — has joined in a U.N. resolution against introducing weapons in outer space, and has "initiated cutbacks in the planned production of fissionable material."

In addition, the President said, the United States has put before the Geneva disarmament conference — now temporarily in recess — "a number of important, concrete proposals for the control and reduction of armaments on which agreement has not yet been achieved."

Foster listed major pending proposals as being designed to freeze production of strategic nuclear delivery vehicles such as rockets, to halt production of fissionable (nuclear) materials for weapons use, to reduce the danger of surprise attack or way by miscalculation by setting up observation posts over the world, and to prevent non-nuclear countries from obtaining nuclear weapons.

Officials said the four-year $55-million authorization which the President asked for the disarmament agency was mainly required to finance research projects. It is expected that the President will ask an appropriation of $10 million to $11 million to finance the disarmament agency for the next fiscal year.

Group Told Of National Steel Plans

CHICAGO — An enlarged capital spending program for National Steel Corp., the fourth-largest steel producer, was announced here Thursday by its president, George A. Stinson.

Stinson told the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago that his company's 1964-66 spending program now totals $340-million, almost 25 per cent greater than the originally announced $275-million program started a year ago. The entire program will be internally financed, Stinson added. And it will elevate National Steel's capital investment to a record high level for any three-year period in its history.

Stinson told the analysts that 1964 was the second consecutive year with financial and operating records. Although final figures for 1964 are not complete, he disclosed that per share earnings will be above $5, compared with $4.12 in 1963. Production and shipments were about 13 per cent ahead of 1963 records of 7.1-million and 5.2-million tons respectively, he added.

"Prospects are for a near-capacity operation of National's mills and for others making similar products during the first quarter of 1965," he said.

National's current spending program, will devote approximately $70-million to raw materials, about $100-million to primary and semi-finishing steelmaking, and about $170-million to steel finishing.

A plant, to combine for the first time in one unified production cycle the basic oxygen furnace, vacuum degassing and a high-tonnage continuous slab casting machine, will be built at National Steel's Weirton Steel Co. and is scheduled for initial production near the end of 1966.

A second major aspect will be the construction by National Steel Pellet Co. of a 2.4-million-ton-per-year plant near Hibbing, Minn., for the production of iron ore pellets.

Expected to be in production early in 1967, its output will increase materially the availability of pellets for National Steel's blast furnace plants at Detroit and Weirton.

National Steel's activities in the steel service center, or warehousing, trade also will be expanded under the $340-million construction program. Already constructed under the program are large, highly modern service centers at locations convenient to National's Weirton and Portage, Ind., steel plants. Additional service centers are planned for Cincinnati and various locations.

1929. Some 3,338 homes do not have public sewer or septic tanks.

All of the major occupational groups, such as agriculture, manufacturing, wholesale and retail sales, are decreasing in employment. The fact that so many people work outside the county could be due largely to the lack of opportunities in the county.

The percentage of owner-occupied dwellings is 69 per cent, low compared with the state's average of 76 per cent. However, the percentage of owner-occupied farms is 91 per cent, much higher than the state. The low average rent of $62 a month may be one of the reasons for the low percentage of owner occupation of homes.

The key to the future employment opportunities may rest in the fact that 57 per cent of the labor force who were job-seekers in August 1964 were unskilled or inexperienced. A shortage of machinists, machine tool operators and tool and die workers is a direct indication of the lack of skilled workers in the county.

—:—

A COMPLETE report of all the studies of the commission, concerning transportation, land use, parks, recreation, education, economic development, zoning, public utilities, finance and others, is scheduled for release in the spring.

Howard Firestone of Salem, vice president, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president.

The commission unanimously approved a slate of 1965 officers, returning Lower, Firestone and Richard Mattern of Glenmoor, secretary.

Amendments to the articles of cooperation and the bylaws were approved, along with the executive committee's recommended budget for the first two months of 1965 and a tentative budget for the year.

A minor mishap this morning in Newell involved a Newell motorist and the parked auto of a Chester man.

Brewer was parked in a service station at 5th and Washington Sts. about 10 a.m. when his car was hit by Semian, who was turning into the station, the constable said.

1929. Some 3,338 homes do not have public sewer or septic tanks.

All of the major occupational groups, such as agriculture, manufacturing, wholesale and retail sales, are decreasing in employment. The fact that so many people work outside the county could be due largely to the lack of opportunities in the county.

The percentage of owner-occupied dwellings is 69 per cent, low compared with the state's average of 76 per cent. However, the percentage of owner-occupied farms is 91 per cent, much higher than the state. The low average rent of $62 a month may be one of the reasons for the low percentage of owner occupation of homes.

The key to the future employment opportunities may rest in the fact that 57 per cent of the labor force who were job-seekers in August 1964 were unskilled or inexperienced. A shortage of machinists, machine tool operators and tool and die workers is a direct indication of the lack of skilled workers in the county.

A COMPLETE report of all the studies of the commission, concerning transportation, land use, parks, recreation, education, economic development, zoning, public utilities, finance and others, is scheduled for release in the spring.

Howard Firestone of Salem, vice president, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president.

The commission unanimously approved a slate of 1965 officers, returning Lower, Firestone and Richard Mattern of Glenmoor, secretary.

Amendments to the articles of cooperation and the bylaws were approved, along with the executive committee's recommended budget for the first two months of 1965 and a tentative budget for the year.

Newell Auto Strikes Car Of Chester Man

A minor mishap this morning in Newell involved a Newell motorist and the parked auto of a Chester man.

Constable J. Carl Durham said the rear-end collision involved a car operated by John Semian, 131 2nd St., Newell, and the parked auto of William G. Brewer, Box 651, Chester.

Brewer was parked in a service station at 5th and Washington Sts. about 10 a.m. when his car was hit by Semian, who was turning into the station, the constable said.

Key Projects Nearing Reality

A conference set for Monday night between administration representatives and Council on the city's share of the Lisbon St. and W. 9th St. projects marks another forward step toward two long sought major improvements.

The State Highway Department has indicated it expects to proceed in mid-1966 on the $200,000 widening and resurfacing of Lisbon St., easing some of the sharp curves on the grade at the same time.

And by mid-1968, the state expects to schedule work on construction of the auto-pedestrian ramp to link together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St. This project, for which federal aid also is expected, will cost a total of $275,000.

From East Liverpool's standpoint, the relatively low shares asked of the city are one of the most attractive features. The city will be asked to pay $52,500 in all toward the two jobs, which figures out to a little more than 10 per cent of the combined cost of $475,000.

There was a time not many years ago when the municipality might have been forced to turn down both projects because of inability to put up its share. The alternative would have been to issue bonds and borrow the money, repaying it over a long span of years.

Today, thanks to adequate financing made possible largely by the city income tax, Council should have no difficulty in seeing its way clear to provide the local share.

So the projects, when they are completed, will be two major landmarks to the income tax.

The improvements on Lisbon St. and the renewal of proper access for the Sunnyside-West End neighborhood served by W. 9th St. will be a benefit to most residents. They will be particularly helpful to the hundreds of families who depend upon the two thoroughfares each day to travel to and from their jobs or to the central business area.

If the spirit of cooperation is continued among local, state and federal governments, East Liverpool can count on seeing two more major improvements completed before the present decade runs out.

And the city's share will amount to less than $2.50 per inhabitant.

Leonard C. Webber

East Liverpool and the area has lost a respected and civic-minded resident in the death of Leonard C. Webber.

He served the community well in many ways over the years and seldom was found wanting when a deserving enterprise demanded his attention and energy.

Quiet and unassuming, Mr. Webber was not one to seek the limelight and many of his varied activities on behalf of local and area development and advancement were carried out so quietly that they were known to but a relatively few. Likeable by nature, his friendship was cherished by many.

Mr. Webber was a credit to the community, like his father before him.

Full-Crew Debate Ending

Rail unions call them "full crew" laws; management calls them "excess crew" laws.

Railroads now are pushing in state legislatures and courts for implementation of an arbitration award of November 1963 that permits them to remove, gradually, 90 per cent of freight and yard diesel firemen and arbitrate questions of train-crew sizes locally.

Mississippi repealed its full crew law last year. Referenda last November repealed similar laws in Arizona, California and North Dakota. Carriers promptly took newspaper ads calling for "similar action by the 12 states which still retain musty, out-of-the-past excess crew laws on their statute books."

Ohio is one of the 12. Others are Arkansas, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin. Maine's law applies only to steam engines in passenger service.

Seven other states have given their regulatory bodies power to establish crew sizes. The commissions in only three of these (Connecticut, Louisiana, and Michigan) have seen fit to do so.

Courts in Nevada and Texas have ruled that their state laws do not apply to the diesel firemen. With legislatures meeting this year in 47 states in special or regular sessions, management can be expected to agitate for further repeal.

Railroad management contends, with the support of impartial study groups, that safety devices and industry safety procedures have improved enormously since the original full-crew laws were adopted.

Handbrakes once were the only means of stopping trains. Every car must be equipped with air brakes. Firemen have no fires to end on diesel engines. Management insists that a third man in a freight locomotive is not needed for lookout or emergency duties.

On the national level, railroad work rules have been in contention for at least a decade. Repeal of state full crew laws would be a further step in silencing a debate that long since has grown tiresome.

Committee Time

It's committee-naming time for various organizations in East Liverpool and area communities.

Such committees are a necessary part of an organization. It is through them that things can be accomplished.

The one fault, however, is that too often too few participate in the activities to which they have been assigned by hopeful chairmen.

The new year would be a fine time to see to it that committees become actual working committees in every sense of the word and not just a group of names that go into the year's minutes.

If you're on a committee, assume your fair share of the load. The greater the number who join conscientiously in a program, the greater the chance of accomplishment.

Modified Mayhem

By Truman Twill

College football is clouded at season's close, as it has been for many years, by glimpses of the commercial reality behind the rah-rah-rah.

Old ladies and babes in arms are surprised because some of the bull-necked boys who have been filling stadiums for the financial glory of old Siwash signed professional contracts while still, it says here, playing for fun.

But no one else was surprised. We've made that much progress.

Most football spectators now know the score. The only football players who play for fun are those too small to do it for gain or hope of gain.

Even these, if they are good, may have a chance to play for pay someday.

EVERY HIGH SCHOOL boy who shows aptitude for the game thinks about landing a football scholarship.

Every college boy who has demonstrated skill on the gridiron is in the market for a professional contract.

The difference between professional and amateurism is as blurred as the difference between childhood and puberty, or between adolescence and adulthood.

Kids in grade school are being readied for pro football. It is a matter of supply and demand. The demand is there, and the supply is going more than halfway to meet it.

It was this way when professional football was in its cradle and the great college stars of the early football era played on Saturday for Alma Mater and again on Sunday — under assumed names—for cash.

It has been this way ever since. All that's different now is that everybody but little old ladies and babes in arms knows about it and expects it to be this way.

And why shouldn't it be?

BIG-TIME football is a full-time job. When it's played for paying crowds in enormous stadiums, the football player is as worthy of his hire as any hot-shot coach or hard-eyed entrepreneur making a bushel at the boxoffice.

This is true whether the players are wearing the colors of old Siwash or old Capital Gains.

There are no amateurs anywhere else in this multi-million-dollar exhibition of modified mayhem. Why shouldn't the gladiators have a crack at the loot?

Ideally, a college football player would be given a chance to take out some of what is due him in education, if he wants it.

Ideally, the promising prospect would be subsidized by his future employer while learning the trade.

All pretense and hypocrisy of distinguishing between amateurs and professionals would be abandoned.

All the cards would be put on the table where they should be, instead of being played under the table, making cheats and liars out of people doing nothing dishonorable.

Hang on a few more years and it will be done that way. Football is still in its early stages of development. The mayhem is still being modified.

Odd Facts

The average length of life in China is only about half that of the United States. Life expectancy is short because of inadequate nutrition and public health services. Perhaps the big reason why old people are so highly honored in China is because there are so few of them.

Whales are believed to get along with little or no sleep. It is thought that they must keep on the move so that their bodies will keep warm in the frigid waters where they live. Even small specimens in acquariums have been observed swimming around the clock, which could mean that whales "swim in their sleep."

Insects do not have lungs and do not breathe through their mouths. Their air is drawn in through minute holes or spiracles in their body segments and oxygen is carried to all parts of their bodies through intricate systems of branching tubes.

The "most completely used" major river in the world is the Tennessee River, with its power-generating and flood-controlling dams.

The coal-mining leader of the United States is West Virginia. This state also ranks high in steel, glass, aluminum and chemical manufacture, natural gas, quarry products and hardwood lumber.

And No Book Of Instructions!

There Are Too Many Jack Dashes

By Victor Riesel

Far down on the docks of London town this summer some of us ran into a chap called Jack Dash, a minor union fellow who had the support of several hundred wharfside workers.

Victor Riesel

Those dock wallopers were so strategically placed they made Jack Dash a power in the 1-million-member transport union, and gave him enough strength to slow the heartbeat of the British Empire.

A few days ago, Jack Dash, by convincing his comparatively small band of followers not to go longshoring on Sunday, did slow the clogged commerce of the Empire. This he could do by throwing his loyal supporters against the decisions of the huge Transport and General Workers Union, whose national leaders, Frank Cousins, is a member of Harold Wilson's Cabinet in charge of getting the United Kingdom geared up technologically.

Her Majesty's government, even under a Labor prime minister, is learning where the real base of power is—in a free land it's with the Jack Dashes.

Now a pro-labor president of the U.S. has run a collision course into American Jack Dashes—and America's world commerce is being paralyzed.

That's the full meaning of the International Longshoremen's Association's (ILA) strike which tied up 100 ships in New York harbor alone Monday morning. There are too many Jack Dashes with too many bailiwicks making too much individual policy in strategic transportation sectors affecting far too much of the nation's life.

THE SPECIFIC issues should be examined by the nation's labor leaders and the public as well before Congress moves in hard and tough and ends free collective bargaining.

It has been reported that the crippling strike of a hundred ports resulted from the Longshoremen's ignorance of the terms of a compact made by the ILA's national leaders and the ship owners. There is no evidence of this alleged ignorance being the reason for the rank and file vote rejecting the contract described by ILA president Ted Gleason as one of the world's best.

At the core of the opposition to the four-year peace pact is a group inside Mr. Gleason's own union, Checkers' Local No. 1. Mr. Gleason had briefed his fellow unionists well. In return for a $14.40 a week raise, guaranteed annual income, many holidays and higher pensions, the men were called on to yield certain ancient rights.

Let's spell out these rights which are as antediluvian as a four-master. For generations now the checkers have had the right to work a hatch (opening in the deck) until certain cargo below that one hatch has been unloaded. Then, if there is no more to be hoisted or carried out, the checkers can sit around the rest of the day—at full rates. They cannot be reassigned to other hatches or other work.

THE REPUDIATED contract states that they can be shifted and that certain hatch work will disappear but that no checker shall lose his job. He has it for life. It disappears by "attrition," when he retires or dies.

The checkers object to this. They want the position continued despite modernization, automation or elimination by necessity for the work.

Checkers also work on commodities. They are called in to handle their speciality. Some check sugar, coffee, autos, edible nuts, oils, machinery, etc. They are frozen to their details. This means that once they are finished checking cars, or cashew nuts coming out of the freighters they are frozen for the rest of the day and do nothing at full rates.

Under the new pact the shippers would have the right to reassign car checkers to tally incoming cargoes of bananas, furs, fruits—anything. The men would have to keep working. but the ship owners would not have this right for another 15 months, not until April 11, 1966. And even then no checker would lose his job. The work force would grow smaller by attrition.

HOWEVER, the checkers rejected this by a vote of 1,209 to 1,092, or by a 117-vote margin. Thus a swing of some 60 men would have swung at least the checkers behind a pact which took seven months to develop.

There are other oppositionists. There are those who oppose giving the New York Shipping Association the right to move gangs of longshoremen, in their entirety, from one part of the vessel to another, or from one part of the pier to another, as they are needed.

In return for this flexibility, much needed to end the practice of paying men for not working some hours of the day, the employers paid heavily.

At the beginning of the fourth year, if this pact eventually is signed, the ship owners will be putting out $32 a week more per man for higher wages and unprecedented fringe benefits.

However, local leaders rejected the proposals despite acceptance by the national ILA officials.

THUS, A STRIKE costing almost $25 million a day was unleashed at a time when the nation is at the vortex of an international monetary crisis and needs every sales dollar it can get out of the international market.

There is no doubt that these men have the legal right to reject their national leaders' proposals and that the right to strike is inalienable under the law. But there also is no doubt of the right of many congressmen to move to outlaw such right.

One of these congressmen is Sen. John McClellan. He has just introduced a bill to deny transportation unions the right to immunity from the anti-trust laws.

"This waterfront strike again raises the issue of whether the monopolistic power now reposed in transportation unions should be curbed in the national interest," he told a newsman early in the strike.

If the Congress heeds and cracks down it will be the sole responsibility of the Jack Dahes of America.

The Poor Rich

By David Lawrence

Education Plan Reflects Spending Problem

New York City is the richest city in the world and New York State is often referred to as the wealthiest state in the Union. But the Empire State evidently is being regarded in Washington as a "poverty stricken" area in dire need of federal funds. Administration officials admit that, out of the appropriations for education which President Johnson has recommended to Congress, New York State is expected to get close to $92 million in the first year of the program. New York City itself, according to Washington officials, may get almost $50 million as its share.

David Lawrence

Much of this sum is to be made available to what are called "poverty-impacted" school districts. The theory is that, because the residents of the area have low incomes, the schools are "poor" in quality. This, of course, is unrealistic, because funds for schools are provided by the state, counties and cities, irrespective of the income of individual citizens in any given school district.

Many cities have slum areas, but does it become, therefore, the sole obligation of the federal government to deal with them? The situation is reminiscent of what happened in the 1930s in the midst of a deep depression. At that time, many citizens were placed on "relief" and the government developed work programs to help the unemployed.

TODAY THE NATION is supposed to be "prosperous." The state governments are raising unprecedented amounts of revenue. Personal income in most of the states is up by many percentage points. Yet the federal government is expected to hand out money to the rich states and the rich cities in order to deal with "poverty stricken" areas.

The question arises as to how long the federal government can keep up an outflow of money without regard for a balanced budget or a surplus out of which to make annual payments on the public debt.

The present mood in Washington is to spend more money for education and for medical care. For many decades, the states have felt it was their duty to handle problems in the field of education and public health, but the federal government has begun to appropriate such vast sums in these two fields that it begins to look as if the states will play a diminishing role in both areas.

There is no reason why the schools in a slum district should be treated any differently than the schools in a prosperous section of the city. There is no justification for assuming that education is of an inferior quality in one part of a city just because the residents happen to be poor people.

It seems incredible that the government of the State of New York cannot itself furnish the $92 million which the federal government is going to extend to the state in its aid-to-education program.

The personal income of the citizens of New York State is more than $55 billion.

THE STATE spends more than $2.4 billion a year for education. So it is not clear why it could not spend an additional $92 million, including the $50 million for New York City, which pays the largest amount of taxes of any city in the state.

Next door to New York, in New Jersey, the governor is urging a rise of $90 million in aid to schools, and he says he is ready and willing to approve revenue-producing measures to underwrite the "just demands" of the public for the expansion of state aid for schools.

Every state in the union has similar problems. The time may be approaching when a sharp line of demarcation between state and federal responsibilities will have to be made in order to safeguard the financial structure of the nation and keep it solvent.

Deficit spending now is regarded as a natural and normal procedure, even as wage-price stability is beginning to be impaired and worries are starting to be expressed in international circles over the constant outflow of American gold.

A STRANGE indifference nevertheless appears to prevail throughout the country. The atmosphere is one of acquiescence on the theory that the artificial boom in business will continue indefinitely and that, if there is a recession, the federal government will pour in more money through reductions in taxes and other emergency devices. It was the same kind of indifference which led to the breakup of the national economy in 1929 and in the years thereafter.

There are no signs on the horizon today that the American people are being awakened to the risks involved in spending more money than the government is collecting, even as the federal establishment begins to take over not only education and health appropriations but also enters more and more into the field of what is called general welfare.

Europe On The Go

By Richard Spong

The meeting in Paris between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and President Charles de Gaulle of France next Tuesday is a formality required by the Franco-German treaty signed in Paris two years ago this month. It also is an encouraging indicator of increasing European political unity.

The treaty of cooperation provides for meetings at least twice a year between the chiefs of state and of government and four times yearly between the ministers of foreign affairs, defense, education, and youth affairs.

The two governments are pledged to "consult before any decision on all important questions of foreign policy, and in the first place on questions of common interest, with a view to arriving, insofar as possible, at a similar position."

The most important similar position the two nations thus far have arrived at, however, required no meeting of the chiefs of government. This was the agreement on Dec. 15 by the European Common Market on a common schedule of grain prices. The pact took months of hard bargaining to resolve differences. It was essentially a French-German compromise, although it affects all six members of the Market and to a lesser extent associate members.

THE SQUABBLE over the U.S. proposal for a multilateral nuclear force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—now muted by order of President Johnson—to an extent obscured the political importance of the Common Market agricultural bargain. The American correspondent Claire Sterling probably does not overstate the case when she writes from Brussels, the scene of the agreement: "By goading the 'Six' into breaking the long deadlock on farm prices, he (De Gaulle) has in fact pushed them so irreversibly toward complete economic integration that none of them—France least of all—could conceivably back out of the Common Market any more."

Political unity inevitably will come with economic integration. So long as De Gaulle is president of France—and he definitely will run for reelection (failing an impairment of health) according to those closest to him—it will not be the sort of unity dreamed of by Eurocrats like Jean Monnet. But it will be a growing coherence.

One of De Gaulle's intimates —to the extent that he has any —Gen. Pierre Billotte, vice president of the Gaullist group in Parliament, told an American audience in a radio interview recorded even before the Brussels agreement; "De Gaulle is very strongly in favor of a political Europe . . . a strong political Europe. You cannot have a strong political Europe if forever that kind of organization will not have the responsibility for the defense and for foreign policy. So the De Gaullist conception is partnership between that kind of political Europe and America."

IN THE NATURE of the Franco-German relationship, the meeting between the chiefs of government is likely to produce a somewhat bland comminque' expressing friendship and optimism.

A successful visit to Paris will aid Erhard's approach to the West German elections scheduled for this September.

The difference between professional and amateurism is as blurred as the difference between childhood and puberty, or between adolescence and adulthood.

Kids in grade school are being readied for pro football. It is a matter of supply and demand. The demand is there, and the supply is going more than halfway to meet it.

It was this way when professional football was in its cradle and the great college stars of the early football era played on Saturday for Alma Mater and again on Sunday — under assumed names—for cash.

It has been this way ever since. All that's different now is that everybody but little old ladies and babes in arms knows about it and expects it to be this way.

And why shouldn't it be?

BIG-TIME football is a full-time job. When it's played for paying crowds in enormous stadiums, the football player is as worthy of his hire as any hot-shot coach or hard-eyed entrepreneur making a bushel at the boxoffice.

This is true whether the players are wearing the colors of old Siwash or old Capital Gains.

There are no amateurs anywhere else in this multi-million-dollar exhibition of modified mayhem. Why shouldn't the gladiators have a crack at the loot?

Ideally, a college football player would be given a chance to take out some of what is due him in education, if he wants it.

Ideally, the promising prospect would be subsidized by his future employer while learning the trade.

All pretense and hypocrisy of distinguishing between amateurs and professionals would be abandoned.

All the cards would be put on the table where they should be, instead of being played under the table, making cheats and liars out of people doing nothing dishonorable.

Hang on a few more years and it will be done that way. Football is still in its early stages of development. The mayhem is still being modified.

Odd Facts

The average length of life in China is only about half that of the United States. Life expectancy is short because of inadequate nutrition and public health services. Perhaps the big reason why old people are so highly honored in China is because there are so few of them.

Whales are believed to get along with little or no sleep. It is thought that they must keep on the move so that their bodies will keep warm in the frigid waters where they live. Even small specimens in acquariums have been observed swimming around the clock, which could mean that whales "swim in their sleep."

Insects do not have lungs and do not breathe through their mouths. Their air is drawn in through minute holes or spiracles in their body segments and oxygen is carried to all parts of their bodies through intricate systems of branching tubes.

The "most completely used" major river in the world is the Tennessee River, with its power-generating and flood-controlling dams.

The coal-mining leader of the United States is West Virginia. This state also ranks high in steel, glass, aluminum and chemical manufacture, natural gas, quarry products and hardwood lumber.

There Are Too Many Jack Dashes

By Victor Riesel

Far down on the docks of London town this summer some of us ran into a chap called Jack Dash, a minor union fellow who had the support of several hundred wharfside workers.

Victor Riesel

Those dock wallopers were so strategically placed they made Jack Dash a power in the 1-million-member transport union, and gave him enough strength to slow the heartbeat of the British Empire.

A few days ago, Jack Dash, by convincing his comparatively small band of followers not to go longshoring on Sunday, did slow the clogged commerce of the Empire. This he could do by throwing his loyal supporters against the decisions of the huge Transport and General Workers Union, whose national leaders, Frank Cousins, is a member of Harold Wilson's Cabinet in charge of getting the United Kingdom geared up technologically.

Her Majesty's government, even under a Labor prime minister, is learning where the real base of power is—in a free land it's with the Jack Dashes.

Now a pro-labor president of the U.S. has run a collision course into American Jack Dashes—and America's world commerce is being paralyzed.

That's the full meaning of the International Longshoremen's Association's (ILA) strike which tied up 100 ships in New York harbor alone Monday morning. There are too many Jack Dashes with too many bailiwicks making too much individual policy in strategic transportation sectors affecting far too much of the nation's life.

THE SPECIFIC issues should be examined by the nation's labor leaders and the public as well before Congress moves in hard and tough and ends free collective bargaining.

It has been reported that the crippling strike of a hundred ports resulted from the Longshoremen's ignorance of the terms of a compact made by the ILA's national leaders and the ship owners. There is no evidence of this alleged ignorance being the reason for the rank and file vote rejecting the contract described by ILA president Ted Gleason as one of the world's best.

At the core of the opposition to the four-year peace pact is a group inside Mr. Gleason's own union, Checkers' Local No. 1. Mr. Gleason had briefed his fellow unionists well. In return for a $14.40 a week raise, guaranteed annual income, many holidays and higher pensions, the men were called on to yield certain ancient rights.

Let's spell out these rights which are as antediluvian as a four-master. For generations now the checkers have had the right to work a hatch (opening in the deck) until certain cargo below that one hatch has been unloaded. Then, if there is no more to be hoisted or carried out, the checkers can sit around the rest of the day—at full rates. They cannot be reassigned to other hatches or other work.

THE REPUDIATED contract states that they can be shifted and that certain hatch work will disappear but that no checker shall lose his job. He has it for life. It disappears by "attrition," when he retires or dies.

The checkers object to this. They want the position continued despite modernization, automation or elimination by necessity for the work.

Checkers also work on commodities. They are called in to handle their speciality. Some check sugar, coffee, autos, edible nuts, oils, machinery, etc. They are frozen to their details. This means that once they are finished checking cars, or cashew nuts coming out of the freighters they are frozen for the rest of the day and do nothing at full rates.

Under the new pact the shippers would have the right to reassign car checkers to tally incoming cargoes of bananas, furs, fruits—anything. The men would have to keep working. but the ship owners would not have this right for another 15 months, not until April 11, 1966. And even then no checker would lose his job. The work force would grow smaller by attrition.

HOWEVER, the checkers rejected this by a vote of 1,209 to 1,092, or by a 117-vote margin. Thus a swing of some 60 men would have swung at least the checkers behind a pact which took seven months to develop.

There are other oppositionists. There are those who oppose giving the New York Shipping Association the right to move gangs of longshoremen, in their entirety, from one part of the vessel to another, or from one part of the pier to another, as they are needed.

In return for this flexibility, much needed to end the practice of paying men for not working some hours of the day, the employers paid heavily.

At the beginning of the fourth year, if this pact eventually is signed, the ship owners will be putting out $32 a week more per man for higher wages and unprecedented fringe benefits.

However, local leaders rejected the proposals despite acceptance by the national ILA officials.

THUS, A STRIKE costing almost $25 million a day was unleashed at a time when the nation is at the vortex of an international monetary crisis and needs every sales dollar it can get out of the international market.

There is no doubt that these men have the legal right to reject their national leaders' proposals and that the right to strike is inalienable under the law. But there also is no doubt of the right of many congressmen to move to outlaw such right.

One of these congressmen is Sen. John McClellan. He has just introduced a bill to deny transportation unions the right to immunity from the anti-trust laws.

"This waterfront strike again raises the issue of whether the monopolistic power now reposed in transportation unions should be curbed in the national interest," he told a newsman early in the strike.

If the Congress heeds and cracks down it will be the sole responsibility of the Jack Dahes of America.

The Poor Rich

By David Lawrence

Education Plan Reflects Spending Problem

New York City is the richest city in the world and New York State is often referred to as the wealthiest state in the Union. But the Empire State evidently is being regarded in Washington as a "poverty stricken" area in dire need of federal funds. Administration officials admit that, out of the appropriations for education which President Johnson has recommended to Congress, New York State is expected to get close to $92 million in the first year of the program. New York City itself, according to Washington officials, may get almost $50 million as its share.

David Lawrence

Much of this sum is to be made available to what are called "poverty-impacted" school districts. The theory is that, because the residents of the area have low incomes, the schools are "poor" in quality. This, of course, is unrealistic, because funds for schools are provided by the state, counties and cities, irrespective of the income of individual citizens in any given school district.

Many cities have slum areas, but does it become, therefore, the sole obligation of the federal government to deal with them? The situation is reminiscent of what happened in the 1930s in the midst of a deep depression. At that time, many citizens were placed on "relief" and the government developed work programs to help the unemployed.

TODAY THE NATION is supposed to be "prosperous." The state governments are raising unprecedented amounts of revenue. Personal income in most of the states is up by many percentage points. Yet the federal government is expected to hand out money to the rich states and the rich cities in order to deal with "poverty stricken" areas.

The question arises as to how long the federal government can keep up an outflow of money without regard for a balanced budget or a surplus out of which to make annual payments on the public debt.

The present mood in Washington is to spend more money for education and for medical care. For many decades, the states have felt it was their duty to handle problems in the field of education and public health, but the federal government has begun to appropriate such vast sums in these two fields that it begins to look as if the states will play a diminishing role in both areas.

There is no reason why the schools in a slum district should be treated any differently than the schools in a prosperous section of the city. There is no justification for assuming that education is of an inferior quality in one part of a city just because the residents happen to be poor people.

It seems incredible that the government of the State of New York cannot itself furnish the $92 million which the federal government is going to extend to the state in its aid-to-education program.

The personal income of the citizens of New York State is more than $55 billion.

THE STATE spends more than $2.4 billion a year for education. So it is not clear why it could not spend an additional $92 million, including the $50 million for New York City, which pays the largest amount of taxes of any city in the state.

Next door to New York, in New Jersey, the governor is urging a rise of $90 million in aid to schools, and he says he is ready and willing to approve revenue-producing measures to underwrite the "just demands" of the public for the expansion of state aid for schools.

Every state in the union has similar problems. The time may be approaching when a sharp line of demarcation between state and federal responsibilities will have to be made in order to safeguard the financial structure of the nation and keep it solvent.

Deficit spending now is regarded as a natural and normal procedure, even as wage-price stability is beginning to be impaired and worries are starting to be expressed in international circles over the constant outflow of American gold.

A STRANGE indifference nevertheless appears to prevail throughout the country. The atmosphere is one of acquiescence on the theory that the artificial boom in business will continue indefinitely and that, if there is a recession, the federal government will pour in more money through reductions in taxes and other emergency devices. It was the same kind of indifference which led to the breakup of the national economy in 1929 and in the years thereafter.

There are no signs on the horizon today that the American people are being awakened to the risks involved in spending more money than the government is collecting, even as the federal establishment begins to take over not only education and health appropriations but also enters more and more into the field of what is called general welfare.

Europe On The Go

By Richard Spong

The meeting in Paris between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and President Charles de Gaulle of France next Tuesday is a formality required by the Franco-German treaty signed in Paris two years ago this month. It also is an encouraging indicator of increasing European political unity.

The treaty of cooperation provides for meetings at least twice a year between the chiefs of state and of government and four times yearly between the ministers of foreign affairs, defense, education, and youth affairs.

The two governments are pledged to "consult before any decision on all important questions of foreign policy, and in the first place on questions of common interest, with a view to arriving, insofar as possible, at a similar position."

The most important similar position the two nations thus far have arrived at, however, required no meeting of the chiefs of government. This was the agreement on Dec. 15 by the European Common Market on a common schedule of grain prices. The pact took months of hard bargaining to resolve differences. It was essentially a French-German compromise, although it affects all six members of the Market and to a lesser extent associate members.

THE SQUABBLE over the U.S. proposal for a multilateral nuclear force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—now muted by order of President Johnson—to an extent obscured the political importance of the Common Market agricultural bargain. The American correspondent Claire Sterling probably does not overstate the case when she writes from Brussels, the scene of the agreement: "By goading the 'Six' into breaking the long deadlock on farm prices, he (De Gaulle) has in fact pushed them so irreversibly toward complete economic integration that none of them—France least of all—could conceivably back out of the Common Market any more."

Political unity inevitably will come with economic integration. So long as De Gaulle is president of France—and he definitely will run for reelection (failing an impairment of health) according to those closest to him—it will not be the sort of unity dreamed of by Eurocrats like Jean Monnet. But it will be a growing coherence.

One of De Gaulle's intimates —to the extent that he has any —Gen. Pierre Billotte, vice president of the Gaullist group in Parliament, told an American audience in a radio interview recorded even before the Brussels agreement; "De Gaulle is very strongly in favor of a political Europe . . . a strong political Europe. You cannot have a strong political Europe if forever that kind of organization will not have the responsibility for the defense and for foreign policy. So the De Gaullist conception is partnership between that kind of political Europe and America."

IN THE NATURE of the Franco-German relationship, the meeting between the chiefs of government is likely to produce a somewhat bland comminque' expressing friendship and optimism.

A successful visit to Paris will aid Erhard's approach to the West German elections scheduled for this September.

Ex-Senator Says Intention To Ask Jobless Aid A Joke

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A wealthy former state senator who said he intended to apply for unemployment and Social Security benefits claimed today the whole thing was a joke.

Roy B. (Mud) Gardner, retired real estate and car dealer who was defeated in the November election, said a metropolitan newspaper story which referred to him as a millionaire prompted him to plant a hoax.

He called the story "ridiculous." He had said earlier he didn't know whether he was a millionaire or not.

The peppery, 71 - year - old Gardner admits he has wide real estate holdings but contends he doesn't know what the property is worth.

"Because of that ridiculous millionaire business, I told a reporter I was going to apply for unemployment and Social Security benefits," Gardner said. "You guys were taken in hook, line, and sinker," he declared.

After the newspaper story was published, The Associated Press called Gardner for confirmation and was told he definitely planned to file for unemployment pay.

Gardner now insists he would not be eligible for unemployment compensation.

"You would have known I was not eligible if you had checked the law," Gardner said, adding that he sponsored Ohio's present unemployment law in the 1963 legislature.

He said before his bill was passed, the unemployment fund had an $80 million deficit and "was taking in $25 million a month while paying out $40 million." He said the system now is sound.

A check with the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation at the time of the original story had indicated he could claim benefits.

Gardner sold his automobile agency here in 1957 and since then has been what he calls an unsalaried "figurehead" president of a real estate holding company in which his son is the only employe.

At the time of the original story, Gardner said he figured his auto agency had paid about $12,000 into the unemployment fund and that he was entitled to benefits.

He said now his $5,000 a year salary as a senator did qualify him for Social Security benefits but, he said, he wasn't serious about that, either.

5 Ohio Firms Are Indicted In 'Price Fix'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Ohio firms—three in Akron and two in Cleveland — were among two groups of companies indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit Thursday on charges of violating antitrust laws.

Announcing the indictments in Washington, the Justice Department said the companies make hydraulic equipment used in tools and fork lift trucks.

Among those named in the first indictment, which charged the defendants with conspiracy to fix prices for hydraulic hose, were the B. F. Goodrich Co., of Akron and George Fisher, manager; B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co., a division, and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron and Robert Mercer, western manager of its industrial products division.

A spokesman for Goodyear denied the charges in a statement issued in Akron.

Among those named in the second indictment were the Weatherhead Co. of Cleveland and Augustus S. Wade, a vice president, and the Parker-Hannifin Corp. of Cleveland.

That indictment charged conspiracy to gain a price advantage over competitors in buying hydraulic hose, to increase the spread between the price they paid and that paid by their competitors.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington manufactures some $36 million in paper money every working day.

Parman is charged with the first degree murder of Shriley Ann Carey, 32, a State Department secretary whose nude body was found in a Washington, D. C., alley early on Jan. 9. The FBI said she "was the victim of a sadistic, sexual assault."

5 Ohio Firms Are Indicted In 'Price Fix'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Ohio firms—three in Akron and two in Cleveland — were among two groups of companies indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit Thursday on charges of violating antitrust laws.

Announcing the indictments in Washington, the Justice Department said the companies make hydraulic equipment used in tools and fork lift trucks.

Among those named in the first indictment, which charged the defendants with conspiracy to fix prices for hydraulic hose, were the B. F. Goodrich Co., of Akron and George Fisher, manager; B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co., a division, and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron and Robert Mercer, western manager of its industrial products division.

A spokesman for Goodyear denied the charges in a statement issued in Akron.

Among those named in the second indictment were the Weatherhead Co. of Cleveland and Augustus S. Wade, a vice president, and the Parker-Hannifin Corp. of Cleveland.

That indictment charged conspiracy to gain a price advantage over competitors in buying hydraulic hose, to increase the spread between the price they paid and that paid by their competitors.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington manufactures some $36 million in paper money every working day.

New Midland Post Goes To Edward Cilli

Midland Council Thursday night adopted a resolution creating the office of assistant borough secretary and named Edward Cilli to the post.

Cilli, who is president of the Board of Education, will assume his duties Monday, and will receive a salary of $4,800 per year.

Mrs. Marlene Westlank, whose job as borough clerk was terminated by the move, thanked Council for its co-operation during her tenure the past nine years.

In another personnel step, Council reappointed Lawrence Cuccaro to a second five-year term as a member of the Municipal Authority. His term expired this month.

Council concurred with the Municipal Authority in eliminating the $4.50 per quarter sewage charge for domestic customers in the borough.

Originally proposed by Mayor Eli Corak, the authority at a meeting Dec. 23 consented to dropping the fees for all single-family and multiple - family dwellings owned or occupied by individuals or families.

The elimination of the $18 annual fee was first proposed in June by Corak, when he called for a joint meeting of Council and the authority to discuss the matter.

At the time, Corak cited the hardships which would be imposed on many families because of a new 4-mill tax increase, set by the Board of Education, as a reason for eliminating the fee.

Atty. Frank Suffoletta, borough solicitor, had ruled on the legality of the move. Dr. Zanvel Sigal is chairman of the authority.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, was directed to write to Harrisburg to determine if appropriations are available to be used for expansion of the Carnegie Public Library.

The move was taken at the request of W. I. McInerney, a member of the Library Board, and is the second such inquiry forwarded by the secretary in the past two years.

In making the request, McInerney noted that the library is 40 years old and still hasn't been built as large as called for in the original plans.

A request from Mike Tepovich for a street light at the intersection of Hillcrest Rd. and Delaware Ave. was turned over to the street committee for study and report at the next meeting.

An invitation was received from the Western Beaver County Area Development Committee to attend a "Meet Your Neighbor Night" Jan. 26 in the Shippingport Community Hall.

The program, in co-operation with the Southern Beaver County Civic Association, will concern the future of the combined Southern and Western Beaver County areas.

Various projects and problems will be aired.

The Atlantic Refining Co. notified Council that an agreement to sell the borough a plot of land at 12th St. will be forwarded shortly for approval.

The 12-foot strip of land will be used in establishing a four-lane entrance to the Crucible Steel Co.

Matt Brozic, street superintendent, was instructed to check the condition of an alley in the vicinity of the George Studen Co. after Councilman Joe D'Alesio said he had received several complaints as to its poor condition.

Joseph Hibbard, vice president, presided in the absence of William Vinovich, president. The next meeting will be held Jan. 28.

Drifting Auto Hits Sign Pole

A city-owned metal sign pole was bent late Thursday afternoon when an auto drifted from a parking place on Jackson St. at Rural Ln., police reported.

There was damage to the undercarriage of the 1957 sedan, owned by Robert Craven, 1069 Dresden Ave., officers said. The mishap was timed at 5:19.

Patrolman Karl Samples, who investigated, said Craven reported he parked his car at a metered space and set the emergency brake. The investigation shows the car drifted across the street on an angle and came to a halt against the pole about 40 feet north of E. 4th St., the officer said.

A parked car was damaged in another mishap Thursday at 3:09 p. m. on Alpha St., police said.

Mellott told police he did not see the parked vehicle.

The mishap damaged the right rear door of the auto. There was no damage to the truck, owned by Hays Motor Co. and leased to Betsy Ross Baking Co. of Chester, police said.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO is one of the national officials of the annual campaign. He has pointed out that "support of this activity has been a time-honored tradition or organized labor," the IBOP commented.

Cleaning Up Of Ohio River Reported Near Completion

CINCINNATI (AP)—The billion-dollar job of cleaning up the mighty Ohio River and its tributaries is nearing completion.

The job began in 1948 when eight states in the 1,000-mile course of the stream formed the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) and the group's chairman said Thursday the primary goals are almost reached.

In ORSANCO's 16th annual report, chairman Barton A. Holl of Logan, Ohio, noted that 99 per cent of the sewage from communities along the Ohio and its tributaries now is treated before being dumped into the streams. Back in 1948, less than one per cent of the sewage went through this process.

The report put the cost of the clean-up at $1 billion.

It also said that "92 per cent of the 1,700 industrial establishments whose effluents are discharged into streams are complying at least with minimum interstate control requirements. Many are rated as doing even better."

With the task of getting towns and factories to comply with anti-pollution measures nearing completion, ORSANCO plans to give more attention to boats that throw refuse in the river, Holl said.

Among the matters discussed by delegates from the eight member states was a conference on pollution in the Mahoning River. The delegates decided to seek a pre-conference meeting for drawing up an agenda for the main conference Feb. 16 at Youngstown.

Ohio Bell Cited In California Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) —Ohio Bell Telephone Co. has been accused in a lawsuit here of preventing the display at an Ohio telephone company convention of a new telephone dial diverter.

The Ohio firm and several other subsidiaries of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. were named co-conspirators in the $150 million suit filed against AT&T by Marcom Inc., Oakland, Calif.

The suit, charging conspiracy in restraint of trade, said Ohio Bell refused to make lines available for a Marcom exhibit at the 1964 Ohio Independent Telephone Companies' convention.

Drifting Auto Hits Sign Pole

A city-owned metal sign pole was bent late Thursday afternoon when an auto drifted from a parking place on Jackson St. at Rural Ln., police reported.

There was damage to the undercarriage of the 1957 sedan, owned by Robert Craven, 1069 Dresden Ave., officers said. The mishap was timed at 5:19.

Patrolman Karl Samples, who investigated, said Craven reported he parked his car at a metered space and set the emergency brake. The investigation shows the car drifted across the street on an angle and came to a halt against the pole about 40 feet north of E. 4th St., the officer said.

A parked car was damaged in another mishap Thursday at 3:09 p. m. on Alpha St., police said.

Mellott told police he did not see the parked vehicle.

The mishap damaged the right rear door of the auto. There was no damage to the truck, owned by Hays Motor Co. and leased to Betsy Ross Baking Co. of Chester, police said.

Potters Endorse March Of Dimes

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today gave its endorsement to the annual March of Dimes campaign and asked its members to lend their support to the nationwide drive.

The union pointed out that a good share of the income from the campaign now is used to finance research into the causes of various birth defects and in aid to afflicted infants and children. More than 50 Birth Defects Centers now have been established in the U.S. as the result of the drive, it added.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO is one of the national officials of the annual campaign. He has pointed out that "support of this activity has been a time-honored tradition or organized labor," the IBOP commented.

SOMETHING NEW. This South Korean elder apparently enjoys the new game (to him) of billiards, which was explained to him by an American soldier in Taegu.

Cleaning Up Of Ohio River Reported Near Completion

CINCINNATI (AP)—The billion-dollar job of cleaning up the mighty Ohio River and its tributaries is nearing completion.

The job began in 1948 when eight states in the 1,000-mile course of the stream formed the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) and the group's chairman said Thursday the primary goals are almost reached.

In ORSANCO's 16th annual report, chairman Barton A. Holl of Logan, Ohio, noted that 99 per cent of the sewage from communities along the Ohio and its tributaries now is treated before being dumped into the streams. Back in 1948, less than one per cent of the sewage went through this process.

The report put the cost of the clean-up at $1 billion.

It also said that "92 per cent of the 1,700 industrial establishments whose effluents are discharged into streams are complying at least with minimum interstate control requirements. Many are rated as doing even better."

With the task of getting towns and factories to comply with anti-pollution measures nearing completion, ORSANCO plans to give more attention to boats that throw refuse in the river, Holl said.

Among the matters discussed by delegates from the eight member states was a conference on pollution in the Mahoning River. The delegates decided to seek a pre-conference meeting for drawing up an agenda for the main conference Feb. 16 at Youngstown.

Kiwanians Hear WOHI's Manager

Suggestions on more effective means of communicating by speech and writing were offered by Joe Coons at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

General manager of WOHI, Coons discussed the restrictions of time, space and receptivity of readers or listeners imposed upon everyone who talks or writes.

He suggested that one attempt to save time by ending wasteful use of words, and to use interesting and unique means of writing or talking in order to hold the attention of the recipient and to make the message more meaningful.

Coons was introduced by Roy Cooper. Alex Kidd, president, was in charge.

Miss Naomi Haney wore a full-length gown of French imported Chantilly lace when she became the bride of Robert M. Cowsert the evening of Jan. 7 at 7:30 o'clock in the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Haney, 2002 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cowsert of Calcutta R. D. 2.

The Rev. W. M. Cowsert, pastor of the Bridgeport (Pa.) Methodist Church, and grandfather of the bridegroom, officiated for the double-ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. S. H. Estel, pastor of the local church.

Miss Linda Seevers, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of wedding music. Ken Campbell sang "I Love You Truly," "The Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go." Palms, ferns, white carnations and snapdragons and candelabra formed the altar setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The fitted bodice of her gown was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt cascaded into ruffles of lace and nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a pearl scroll imperial crown.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations and satin streamers, centered with a white orchid. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Susan Hughes was maid of honor and Miss Sue Neer, Miss Candy Dunn and Miss Linda DeBarr, bridesmaids. They wore ballerina - length gowns of blue taffeta with matching theater veils attached to their crowns of seed pearls. Pink rosebuds and white carnations comprised their Colonial bouquets.

Terrie Haney, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress similar to the other attendants. She carried a basket of white carnations and pink rosebuds. Timmy Jewell, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

William Richardson was best man. Ushers were Harold Haney Jr., brother of the bride, Marvin Anderson and Jerry Barcus.

BLOOD

Q. How much blood does the average person's body contain?

A. Something less than two gallons. Blood is a magic fluid. It flows through miles of tubes and tubules, bringing food, water and oxygen to all parts of the body. It carries off waste, redistributes heat, and regulates temperature. Blood also shields us against infection. Blood is something else—it is thicker than water.

AGE AT MENOPAUSE

Q. At what age does the menopause usually occur?

A. In the late 40's. The current average age of menopause of women in England is 50.1 years. This represents an increase of about 4 years in the age at menopause compared with that of a hundred and twenty years ago (45 years in 1845). The reasons for the increased age at menopause is not known. It may be of interest to note also that adolescence nowadays occurs at a much earlier age than in the last century (13.1 years in 1957; 15.1 years in 1855).

BLOOD

Q. How much blood does the average person's body contain?

A. Something less than two gallons. Blood is a magic fluid. It flows through miles of tubes and tubules, bringing food, water and oxygen to all parts of the body. It carries off waste, redistributes heat, and regulates temperature. Blood also shields us against infection. Blood is something else — it is thicker than water.

AGE AT MENOPAUSE

Q. At what age does the menopause usually occur?

A. In the late 40's. The current average age of menopause of women in England is 50.1 years. This represents an increase of about 4 years in the age at menopause compared with that of a hundred and twenty years ago (45 years in 1845). The reasons for the increased age at menopause is not known. It may be of interest to note also that adolescence nowadays occurs at a much earlier age than in the last century (13.1 years in 1957; 15.1 years in 1855).

New Park Board Sets Discussion With City Council

The new City Park Commission has scheduled a conference in caucus session Monday night with City Council to discuss proposed policies on leasing of municipal riverfront property to boaters that were worked out Thursday night at a meeting at City Hall.

John Parsons, chairman, said about 20 residents attended the commission's meeting, representing individual boaters as well as clubs.

The commission indicated it will advocate a policy of renting the property for a nominal sum for each five - month summer boating season, with the understanding the lessee will beautify the terrain. The permits would be subject to renewal each year and a clause would permit the city to reclaim the property at any time if needed for municipal purposes or as part of an industrial tract, for instance.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne pledged the fire department's co-operation in a regulation proposed by the commission that would ban open fires on the riverfront. The lone exception would be fires to clean up driftwood or other debris, which would be subject to fire department control.

Other members of the commission are Louis Yanni and James Moss. The next meeting will be held Feb. 9.

Man Lauded, Murder Charges Dismissed

CLEVELAND (AP) — A commendation from the judge came along with dismissal of second-degree murder charges against an east sider who shot and killed a man who was attacking another man with a knife.

The charges against Harris Clark, 23, of Cleveland, were dismissed Thursday. Common Pleas Judge Earl R. Hoover, who acted on the recommendation of the county prosecutor's office, said: "We always hear complaints that people won't go to the help of somebody under attack. This man did, and he should be commended." Police said Clark shot and killed Sherman Porter last Oct. 25 when the latter refused an order to stop his attack on Boykin Peters, who suffered stab wounds.

degrees and $10 for non-degree teachers.

Major educational groups, including the West Virginia Education Association, the State Association of School Boards and the State Department of Education, are pushing a program which would require $15 million in new state funds next fiscal year.

This program would mean raises of nearly $1,000 starting next September in the annual pay of teachers with professional degrees and 16 years in the school system.

Although Smith will not make his program known until next week, indications are mounting that administration leaders in the legislature will seek a more liberal outlay than the board recommended.

House Education Chairman Harry R. Pauley, D-McDowell, said Thursday he favors the teacher pay levels advocated by the WVEA and allied groups. Pauley said he had been assured "by leaders in the administration" that campaign pledges to teachers would be fulfilled.

He said he was hopeful this could be accomplished without a major tax boost.

Dels. B. C. Jones, R-Mason, and B. Noel Poling, R-Jackson, sponsored the bill to lift the sales tax from food bought for home consumption and prescribed medicines.

Republicans have made this proposal unsuccessfully in several consecutive legislative sessions. Opposition from the Democratic majority has centered on the fact that the exemptions would mean loss of several million dollars in yearly revenue.

England and Del. H. Dale Covey, D-Raleigh, introduced a bill to repeal the 1963 act requiring annual statewide observance of Daylight Saving Time from the fourth Sunday in April to the fourth Sunday in September.

Del. J. E. Ned Watson, D-Marion, introduced a bill to raise the minimum age for an unrestricted driver's license from 16 to 18. The bill would establish a new junior license for those past 16 but not yet 18. A junior license would require parents' consent and its use would be subject to restrictions laid down by the motor vehicles commissioner.

3 City Boys Get Jail Detention For Car Thefts

Three East Liverpool boys, two age 14 and one 15, were placed in detention at the County Jail Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for theft of two cars.

Two admitted trying to steal the car of Robert Ludwig Dec. 4 and then allowing it to roll over a hill near Henry St.

The three admitted stealing a 1964 Volkswagen owned by Sevy's Pharmacy of St. Clair Ave., which was later found stuck in gear near Richardson St.

Juvenile Officer James Miller told the court the youths bragged to their friends about the thefts and after they heard they were going to be picked up they ran away from home.

Judge Tobin told their parents that they would remain in detention until Monday, when he will decide what to do with them. He cautioned the parents not to try and see them until the hearing.

Damage was listed at $10 to the Ludwig car and $90.90 to the other.

Bow Advises Against Increase In Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposals for foreign aid had better not "indicate a trend toward increasing other (fiscal) 1966 programs over our 1965 appropriations," says Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio. He is senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee.

"If it does," says the Canton congressman, "I am confident the Congress will demonstrate that we can cut budgets" as in the past two years. Bow remarked that the foreign aid budget was ballyhooed as the lowest an administration has submitted in recent history, yet it exceeds the amount appropriated by Congress last year.

Weather

partment sent out several truck crews to salt slippery stretches.

The department assigned two trucks to the East Liverpool area, two in the Unity district and one each in the Lisbon and Leetonia areas.

The forenoon flurries were light but enough to whiten the ground. Apparently the major accumulation was due this afternoon. Only flurries are forecast for Saturday.

Lower temperatures than the 12 recorded downtown had been forecast and only gradual moderation is expected as the high may not exceed 23 degrees today. The Montgomery Dam at Ohio View said the mercury did not climb above 17 yesterday. It had a low of 10 this morning.

Charles Boughner, lockmaster at the dam, said the minimum thermometer showed a reading of 5 above, which occurred sometime during the night, for the coldest mark this season. The dam had 6 above early in December. The revised forecast indicated a low range tonight colder than expected, 5 to 12, for the northern part of the state.

Winter's coldest weather numbed most of the northern half of the nation today from Minnesota into Maine.

Weather Bureau officials said there appeared little indication of an immediate general break in the severe cold spell. Another mass of Arctic air appeared headed into the northern Midwest.

The coldest weather of the season hit many areas in the Northeast, with temperatures dropping far below zero in northern sections of New England and in western and northern New York State.

The mercury dropped to record low and seasonal marks in many parts of the Midwest Thursday, including a bone-chilling 42 below zero at Hibbing and International Falls, in northern Minnesota. It was 34 below at Hibbing, in the iron-range district, and International Falls, on the Canadian border.

In New York State, an unofficial low reading of 30 below was reported.

New York City also felt the bite of the wintry blast. It was zero in Boston and subzero marks were reported in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Fliers Suffer Burns In Michigan Crackup

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — A small plane with two men aboard smashed onto the field at Willow Run Airport Thursday afternoon and burst into a ball of flame.

Both men were taken to University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, where they were reported suffering from extensive burns. Police at the scene said both were found outside the flaming wreckage.

In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board identified the men as Donald McDonald, the pilot, and Frank Vespignani, co-pilot.

The craft, a two-engine Lockheed Lodestar, was owned by the Burroughs Corp. and was based at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

It has been practicing low approaches to the runway just before the crash, according to George G. Eisenhart, assistant chief coordinator for the Federal Aviation Agency at Willow Run.

First reports mistakenly had a commercial airliner being involved in the crash.

New Park Board Sets Discussion With City Council

The new City Park Commission has scheduled a conference in caucus session Monday night with City Council to discuss proposed policies on leasing of municipal riverfront property to boaters that were worked out Thursday night at a meeting at City Hall.

John Parsons, chairman, said about 20 residents attended the commission's meeting, representing individual boaters as well as clubs.

The commission indicated it will advocate a policy of renting the property for a nominal sum for each five - month summer boating season, with the understanding the lessee will beautify the terrain. The permits would be subject to renewal each year and a clause would permit the city to reclaim the property at any time if needed for municipal purposes or as part of an industrial tract, for instance.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne pledged the fire department's co-operation in a regulation proposed by the commission that would ban open fires on the riverfront. The lone exception would be fires to clean up driftwood or other debris, which would be subject to fire department control.

Other members of the commission are Louis Yanni and James Moss. The next meeting will be held Feb. 9.

Hoover, who acted on the recommendation of the county prosecutor's office, said: "We always hear complaints that people won't go to the help of somebody under attack. degrees and $10 for non-degree teachers.

Major educational groups, including the West Virginia Education Association, the State Association of School Boards and the State Department of Education, are pushing a program which would require $15 million in new state funds next fiscal year.

This program would mean raises of nearly $1,000 starting next September in the annual pay of teachers with professional degrees and 16 years in the school system.

Although Smith will not make his program known until next week, indications are mounting that administration leaders in the legislature will seek a more liberal outlay than the board recommended.

House Education Chairman Harry R. Pauley, D-McDowell, said Thursday he favors the teacher pay levels advocated by the WVEA and allied groups. Pauley said he had been assured "by leaders in the administration" that campaign pledges to teachers would be fulfilled.

He said he was hopeful this could be accomplished without a major tax boost.

Dels. B. C. Jones, R-Mason, and B. Noel Poling, R-Jackson, sponsored the bill to lift the sales tax from food bought for home consumption and prescribed medicines.

Republicans have made this proposal unsuccessfully in several consecutive legislative sessions. Opposition from the Democratic majority has centered on the fact that the exemptions would mean loss of several million dollars in yearly revenue.

England and Del. H. Dale Covey, D-Raleigh, introduced a bill to repeal the 1963 act requiring annual statewide observance of Daylight Saving Time from the fourth Sunday in April to the fourth Sunday in September.

Del. J. E. Ned Watson, D-Marion, introduced a bill to raise the minimum age for an unrestricted driver's license from 16 to 18. The bill would establish a new junior license for those past 16 but not yet 18. A junior license would require parents' consent and its use would be subject to restrictions laid down by the motor vehicles commissioner.

3 City Boys Get Jail Detention For Car Thefts

Three East Liverpool boys, two age 14 and one 15, were placed in detention at the County Jail Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for theft of two cars.

The three admitted stealing a 1964 Volkswagen owned by Sevy's Pharmacy of St. Clair Ave., which was later found stuck in gear near Richardson St.

Juvenile Officer James Miller told the court the youths bragged to their friends about the thefts and after they heard they were going to be picked up they ran away from home.

Judge Tobin told their parents that they would remain in detention until Monday, when he will decide what to do with them. He cautioned the parents not to try and see them until the hearing.

Bow Advises Against Increase In Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposals for foreign aid had better not "indicate a trend toward increasing other (fiscal) 1966 programs over our 1965 appropriations," says Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio. He is senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee.

"If it does," says the Canton congressman, "I am confident the Congress will demonstrate that we can cut budgets" as in the past two years. Bow remarked that the foreign aid budget was ballyhooed as the lowest an administration has submitted in recent history, yet it exceeds the amount appropriated by Congress last year.

The department assigned two trucks to the East Liverpool area, two in the Unity district and one each in the Lisbon and Leetonia areas.

The forenoon flurries were light but enough to whiten the ground. Apparently the major accumulation was due this afternoon. Only flurries are forecast for Saturday.

Lower temperatures than the 12 recorded downtown had been forecast and only gradual moderation is expected as the high may not exceed 23 degrees today. The Montgomery Dam at Ohio View said the mercury did not climb above 17 yesterday. It had a low of 10 this morning.

Charles Boughner, lockmaster at the dam, said the minimum thermometer showed a reading of 5 above, which occurred sometime during the night, for the coldest mark this season. The dam had 6 above early in December. The revised forecast indicated a low range tonight colder than expected, 5 to 12, for the northern part of the state.

Winter's coldest weather numbed most of the northern half of the nation today from Minnesota into Maine.

Weather Bureau officials said there appeared little indication of an immediate general break in the severe cold spell. Another mass of Arctic air appeared headed into the northern Midwest.

The coldest weather of the season hit many areas in the Northeast, with temperatures dropping far below zero in northern sections of New England and in western and northern New York State.

The mercury dropped to record low and seasonal marks in many parts of the Midwest Thursday, including a bone-chilling 42 below zero at Hibbing and International Falls, in northern Minnesota. It was 34 below at Hibbing, in the iron-range district, and International Falls, on the Canadian border.

In New York State, an unofficial low reading of 30 below was reported.

New York City also felt the bite of the wintry blast. It was zero in Boston and subzero marks were reported in northwestern Pennsylvania.

First In U.S. Job Corps To Eye Training

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — The nation's first Job Corpsmen, the outriders in President Johnson's war on poverty, began training today at a mountain retreat that housed depression youth of the 1930s.

The pioneer group, which includes 11 Baltimoreans and 19 youngsters from Virginia and Kentucky, will occupy sturdy chestnut log cabins built 30 years ago by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The training site is in the isolated Catoctin Mountain National Park, about a mile from Camp David where two presidents frequently rested.

The youths will be sworn in at Baltimore City Hall and then will board a bus for the 60-mile trip.

Marion Pines, a 40-year-old Goucher College alumna who is in charge of recruiting in Baltimore, says her office has had at least 750 Job Corps applications in the last six weeks.

"I've never seen anything like it," Mrs. Pines says. "Enthusiasm? That's the understatement of the year."

She said when the nine Negroes and two whites were told they would make up the first group from Baltimore, "the kids couldn't believe it. It was like a dream come true for them."

Most of the applicants, she said, are high school dropouts who see the Job Corps as a way of correcting a mistake. The corps is open to youngsters between 16 and 21 who are out of school and can't find a job.

The corps houses, clothes and feeds them and gives them $30 a month spending money during the training period which may last a year. An additional $50 a month is put aside for the corpsmen to be paid when training is finished.

Mrs. Pines said preliminary plans called for the corpsmen to be trained in conservation, forestry and carpentry.

She said Job Corps cadre will be looking for leaders among the first 30, which in addition to the Baltimore boys includes youths from Lecher County, Ky., and Wise County, Va.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: We have a do-it-yourself barber kit and instead of using a towel around the neck, we wrap the neck tightly with bathroom tissue, then put a nylon raincoat on the child. (The raincoat sheds hair better than it does water! (This is especially good for squirmy children. We also let the child hold a hand mirror so that he can watch us cut his hair.

Result? Less crying.

TEDDY.

Great. And did you ever try setting the child on a stool in the bathtub (no water of course!) and doing your barbering there. You can sit on the edge of the tub.

All the excess hair can be seen easily and removed with a damp piece of tissue. Much easier this way.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a teen-age son who loves to have his friends in for hamburgers.

I struck upon the idea of frying all the hamburgers ahead of time, putting them in the buns, wrapping each one tightly in foil, then putting them in a warm oven.

I slice onions, pickles and tomatoes and store them in my refrigerator.

When the boys storm in, ready to eat, I just hand them a hot hamburger and let each put his own pickles or whatever he wants on his sandwich.

It surely saves Mama because she doesn't have to listen to all the kids saying "Please hurry up, Mom. We are all starving."

J.R.L.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: A man's necktie holder is a wonderful holder for extension cords.

The cords hang straight down so you can see which type is needed, and there is no unwinding or straightening out kinks, so the cords last longer.

MRS. AL CHAMBERLAIN.

DEAR HELOISE: When you shop for a dress or a suit — it's a good idea to sit down in it when you are trying it on, before you decide to buy it.

About a month ago I bought a lovely, lace party dress and just loved the way it fit until . . . I wore it to a party one night and was absolutely miserable and self-conscious when I sat down!

A garment may feel fine when you are standing up, but some of us who are inclined to become broader when we sit, will find that the garment is just too tight.

So save yourself from making a bad buy — sit and test for strain before buying. After all, you'll be sitting in the dress much of the time, and you want to be comfortable, don't you?

MOSELLE CALDWELL.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to add a little more to the suggestion of using clean plastic medicine bottles for olives, etc., in the children's lunch box:

Recently three of my children had colds. When they went back to school, the little marked bottles were just the thing to carry a dose of cough medicine.

They took their medicine at the proper time. The teacher saw to that.

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: Elastic thread can be used to make small loops on shirts for little boys' suspenders.

The loops are hardly noticed and keep the straps in place.

Young Mother Triumphs Over Heartache

"Last January my husband asked me for a divorce." The letter from the young mother who wrote this reveals that it isn't what happens to us in life, but how we react to it that determines the outcome. We salute her in open admiration.

Ida Jean Kain

"I have read in your column that motivation is all-important to the dieter. I hope my story might help even one person to avoid the heartache I've had this last year.

—:—

"MY HUSBAND and I married too young, but we were in love and soon our family grew, four children in five years. With each pregnancy I put on extra pounds, became more housebound, took less interest in my appearance, and felt increasingly sorry for myself. I was on a perpetual 'diet', always backsliding and destroying my self-confidence.

"When my husband asked for a divorce, he had been having an affair with an attractive single girl and wanted to marry her. That night I looked at myself in the mirror. I mean really looked, and I could see why we had drifted apart. It is painful to strip away the excuses and see yourself as you are.

"Mentally, I listed my good points and my faults and began remaking myself. I was badly hurt, but I decided that I had the children to consider and couldn't fall apart. It took every ounce of courage I could muster, but I started a good, sensible diet, plus a grooming program. I exercised, took walks, and when especially depressed I took a "beauty treatment"—a bubbly bath, fixed my hair, fussed with with my general appearance. I found I did have time for such things.

"I READ, worked in the garden, and tried to keep busy and interested in life. The pounds melted away. In the process of re-making myself I opened my heart and learned a great deal about love, not just in my marriage but with my children and friends.

"Now, a year later, I weigh a trim 100 pounds for my five feet. My husband is really in love with me for the first time in our lives. I don't mean to imply that my appearance was all that was the matter with our marriage; I do think it was the key to my lack of confidence and inverted personality, which in turn affected my husband. By coming to grips with myself, I opened a lot of closed doors.

"One night my husband said, 'You know, I think respect and caring are the big things in marriage. When I saw you facing things last winter and working so hard instead of crying and giving up, I had new respect for you. When I saw the real girl inside you emerging, I very much wanted you. You never seemed to care before.'

"IT TOOK a near disaster to wake me up. I pray somebody else can learn from my mistake. Ben Franklin once said, 'In order to be loved, you have to be lovable.'

"The funny thing is I had always been rather plain, and, at 30, I've found I'm really quite attractive. It's a nice feeling. . .sort of a bonus."

Thank you, oh, so much for sharing. In an overwhelming experience, one becomes bitter or better. It takes courage to grow and reach for happiness.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: We have a do-it-yourself barber kit and instead of using a towel around the neck, we wrap the neck tightly with bathroom tissue, then put a nylon raincoat on the child. (The raincoat sheds hair better than it does water! (This is especially good for squirmy children. We also let the child hold a hand mirror so that he can watch us cut his hair.

Result? Less crying.

TEDDY.

Great. And did you ever try setting the child on a stool in the bathtub (no water of course!) and doing your barbering there. You can sit on the edge of the tub.

All the excess hair can be seen easily and removed with a damp piece of tissue. Much easier this way.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a teen-age son who loves to have his friends in for hamburgers.

I struck upon the idea of frying all the hamburgers ahead of time, putting them in the buns, wrapping each one tightly in foil, then putting them in a warm oven.

I slice onions, pickles and tomatoes and store them in my refrigerator.

When the boys storm in, ready to eat, I just hand them a hot hamburger and let each put his own pickles or whatever he wants on his sandwich.

It surely saves Mama because she doesn't have to listen to all the kids saying "Please hurry up, Mom. We are all starving."

Our Thanks To Mr. Michael Starvaggi For His Contribution

We owe a debt of gratitude to many persons who have worked untiringly to make a home for indigent children in Hancock County these past years. We acknowledge their every effort and every contribution. Without the help of so many interested persons the home would not yet be a reality.

As with many projects, the Children's Home had a humble beginning, but grew and expanded to give a much needed service to children who sorely needed help. Various attempts were made to expand and modernize its facilities to more ably administer the care for health and happiness of the children.

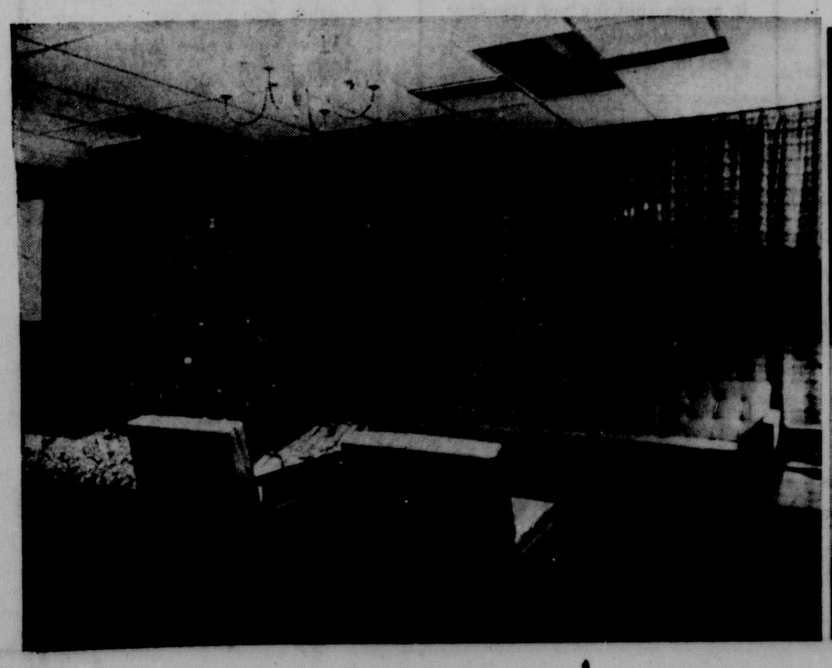

Just when plans were nearing completion and a new structure seemed within grasp, the Board of Trustees was shocked to learn that financial help on which the project hinged were no longer available from the Federal government. It was at this crisis, when abandonment of the plans seemed imminent, that hopes were raised by a promise of help. A personal gift of $200,000 was made available to the trustees.

How do you measure the worth of such a contribution or acknowledge a gift of such magnitude? The home stands as a great tribute to one whose generosity and charity made it possible.

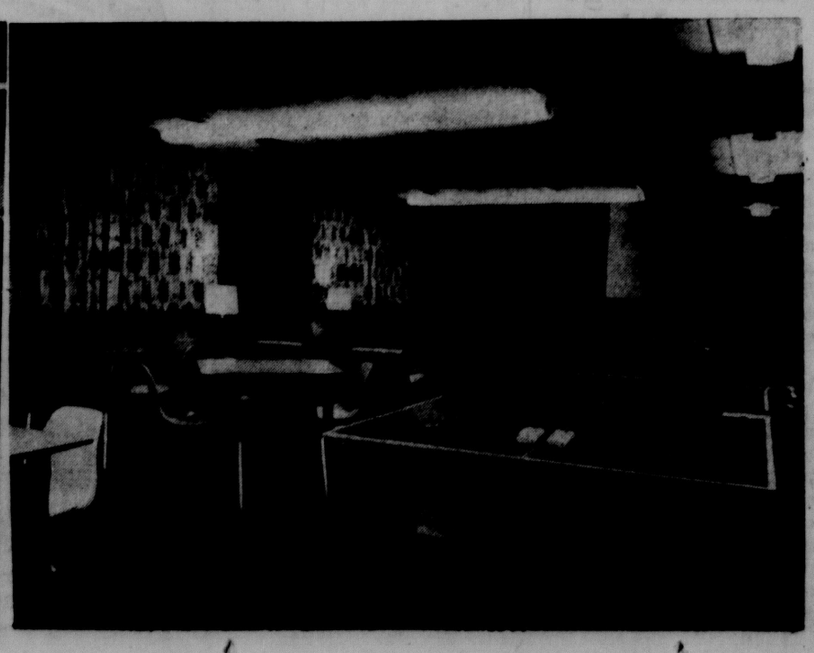

We're mighty proud of the new home and since it belongs to all of the people of Hancock County we welcome everyone to visit it this weekend. We think you, too, will be mighty proud of these modern facilities for the youngsters for whom it will be home.

To the man who made such a magnificent contribution we can only join you in saying over and over and over . . . to you Mr. Starvaggi, from the bottom of our hearts

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY

Junker Praises Cunningham . . .

"It was not only his scoring but over-all spirit and performance which helped us beat Dayton," Ed Jucker said in talking about his senior guard, Ken Cunningham.

"Kenny has given us some good games this season," Jucker told us in a telephone conversation.

"He never gave up against Dayton. We were 12 points behind, but Ken came up with a few steals and gave us that complete game. He scored 19 points against Dayton, 14 in the second half. He didn't miss in the second half, shooting 7 for 7," the Cincinnati coach added.

Cunningham has been a starter in only three games so far this season, but lately has come off the bench to spark the Bearcats. He did start the Dayton game.

"We have been rotating four guards this season and are getting a lot of mileage out of them. The starting guards depend on our opponent and their personnel," Jucker said.

"Kenny did a fine job against Wichita last Saturday. We were far behind, but he led a rally in the second half to bring us within four points. But we fell short."

Starred In Wichita Game . . .

THE FORMER Potter great did not start the Wichita game, but his performance in that contest caused Wichita coach Gary Thompson to remark, "I am glad Cunningham didn't play any longer or Cincinnati would have beaten us. He has the quickest pair of hands of anyone I have seen in college basketball.

Jucker also was pleased with Cunningham's work in the Holiday Tournament against Bill Bradley of Princeton. "Kenny wasn't assigned to Bradley, but stole the ball from him several times when we double teamed him."

Cincinnati will have to play some outstanding basketball in order to overtake Wichita and St. Louis in the Missouri Valley Conference race.

The Bearcats are 1-1 in league play. St. Louis and Wichita lead the Conference with a 4-0. Cincinnati plays Bradley Saturday night.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ROCHESTER HIGH, coached by Jim Harris, who was the Potter basketball mentor last year, is on top of the Section 14 standings with a 3-0 record.

A FORMER East Liverpool man, with the help of his father, landed a 150-pound black bear while "deer" hunting recently in Florida. Finding a bear in the Central part of Florida was quite unusual.

Elmer Skelton Jr., who now resides in Inverness, Fla., was hunting with his father, of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

Young Skelton dropped the bear with a shotgun, using heavy shot. Only a few bears ever had been seen in that area of Florida.

LIMA SHAWNEE was ranked second in the state this week behind Canton McKinley, and we can see why. A look at the Lima lineup shows center Denton Sullivan standing 6-9 and two forwards, Adrian Zuber and Jeff Miller, at 6-5 each. The other two "dwarfs" are 6-2 Ron Cure and Rick Snider, who stands only 6 feet even.

12 Games Listed On District Card

Steubenville Big Red will offer a serious threat to East Liverpool's 5-game winning streak when the two rivals clash tonight at Memorial Auditorium in one of 12 games scheduled for district floors tonight.

Coach Frank Chan of the Potters doesn't plan any change in the starting lineup which has remained the same through the current winning streak.

THE POTTER coach has discovered in the last few contests that he can depend more on his bench with Ron Kinsey, Chuck Winters and Vern Smith turning in some key performances when called upon to fill in for the regulars.

As the season reaches the halfway point tonight, Terry Lawrence, the 6-4 forward, is leading the Potters in the scoring department with 108 markers in 8 games. During the win string, Lawrence has scored over 15 points in each game and was in the 20's on two occasions.

HE WILL be at one forward spot tonight along with Frank Taylor, Ben Springer, Bob Maltarich and Joe Massey.

Big Red owns a 4-3 record but two of the defeats were at the hands of Canton McKinley and Midland, both undefeated outfits.

Midland and Wellsville are idle tonight but Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers will play host to Oak Glen Saturday night.

With 12 contests on tap tonight, 10 more will be played Saturday.

—:—

OAK GLEN, fresh from a victory over Follansbee, travels to Benwood Union tonight seeking its fourth win in 8 starts.

Coach John Pape sends his Beaver Local five after its fifth victory tonight at Toronto. The league contest is a crucial one for the Beavers since the Red Knights are undefeated in Buckeye Border Conference play. Beaver Local shows a 1-1 mark in league competition.

—:—

STANTON Local, led by Larry Spires, will attempt to up its win streak to 4 games when Wintersville invades Stanton tonight. The Red Raiders have defeated Brilliant, Jefferson Union and Wayne in their last 3 outings.

Southern Local visits Crestview in what should be a close contest while Jackson-Milton is at United.

—:—

THE TRI-COUNTY schedule is full with East Palestine at Louisville facing a strong Leopard team, Lisbon visiting Poland, Minerva at Columbiana and Leetonia at Sebring.

In a Big 8 Conference game, Salem plays at Warren.

All of a sudden, Maryland is the team to watch in college basketball.

Overlooked in preseason calculations, the unranked Terps have jelled and now must be reckoned with in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference.

The performances of sophomores Jay McMillen of Mansfield, Pa., Gary Ward of Washington, D.C. and Joe Harrington of Phippsburg, Maine, have sparked the resurgence of the Terps.

They combined for 66 points as the Terps won their fifth straight Thursday night, a 93-85 double-overtime conquest over Wake Forest at Winston-Selem, N.C. It was Maryland's fifth ACC triumph against two defeats and knocked Wake Forest out of a triple tie for first with Duke and N.C. State at 4-1.

Maryland's triumph overshadowed Davidson's 86-77 Southern Conference victory over West Virginia at Charleston, W.Va., to a slim national program.

It was the 12th straight for the eighth-ranked Wildcats, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action.

In other games, Memphis State beat Loyola of The South at New Orleans 71-65, Wyoming downed home Denver 81-76, Virginia Tech defeated Richmond 68-58 at Blacksburg, Florida, on the road, whipped Mississippi State 74-59 and Gonzaga took Montana State U. 91-79 at Spokane.

McMillen scored 31 points, including 13 straight in the two extra periods, as Maryland upped its over-all record to 9-5, already more games than the Terps have won in each of the last three seasons. Ward chipped in with 25 and Harrington 10.

AFL To Consider Expanding Loop

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League will remain an eight-team league in 1965 and probably for at least two more years although it has scheduled an expansion meeting to consider 38 applications this year.

Commissioner Joe Foss said Thursday the AFL will investigate the various groups applying for franchises and then make up its mind when and if it wants to add any new clubs.

Foss said nine groups from Philadelphia, five from Atlanta, four each from Washington and Chicago, three from Milwaukee and two from Los Angeles have made inquiries. He also had heard from would-be owners in Miami, New Orleans, Birmingham, Seattle, Portland, Columbus and Cincinnati.

Although Foss declined to name names he did reveal he had spoken to Arthur Allyn, owner of the Chicago White Sox, earlier this week in Chicago. Allyn would like to put an AFL franchise in Comiskey Park.

All league owners assured Foss they expected to stand pat in their present cities at least through 1965. Anaheim, Calif., new home of the Los Angeles Angels, has been making a strong pitch for San Diego and there are rumors that Denver eventually might be headed toward Philadelphia.

Under the terms of a new five - year $36-million television contract with the National Broadcasting Co., it is reported each team will get $750,000 in 1965, $800,000 in 1966, $850,000 in 1967, $900,000 in 1968, and $950,000 in 1969. There is an additional $2-million expansion fund that probably would be split among new franchises. That fund could provide $50,000 for each of two new clubs in 1968 and 1969 but lesser amounts if spread over more than two years.

Under the new television setup, an attempt will be made to screen most of the teams' road games in the home city. The league will operate once more on a 15-week schedule adding an extra week by alloting open dates as it did last season. Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner, has the job of making up the schedule.

West Seeking 4th Straight In AFL Game

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League's All-Star game, hurriedly transplanted to Houston from New Orleans when 21 Negro players claimed racial discrimination, tests the pride of the Eastern Division against the best of the West Saturday afternoon at Jeppesen Stadium.

Houston Oiler officials who undertook the difficult job of promoting the game under short notice hopefully expected a crowd of 20,000 if the weatherman lives up to his forecast of cool dry weather.

There had been talk of a crowd as high as 60,000 if the game had been played in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl.

The game will be telecast at 2 p.m., EST, by the American Broadcasting Co., with the Houston area blacked out.

The West has won all three previous games in the series, pulling out a 27-24 decision last year at San Diego in the final seconds. There was no All-Star game in 1960, the league's first year.

Coach Lou Saban of the champion Buffalo bills banked heavily on his own Buffalo players and a big delegation from the second-place Boston Patriots to put the East in the win column.

Sid Gillman, Western coach, will have five of his San Diego Chargers in the starting line-up — tight end Dave Kocourek, blanker Lance Alworth, running back Keith Lincoln, tackle Ron Nix and guard Walt Sweeny.

The Sports Bench

Junker Praises Cunningham . . .

"It was not only his scoring but over-all spirit and performance which helped us beat Dayton," Ed Jucker said in talking about his senior guard, Ken Cunningham.

"Kenny has given us some good games this season," Jucker told us in a telephone conversation.

"He never gave up against Dayton. We were 12 points behind, but Ken came up with a few steals and gave us that complete game. He scored 19 points against Dayton, 14 in the second half. He didn't miss in the second half, shooting 7 for 7," the Cincinnati coach added.

Cunningham has been a starter in only three games so far this season, but lately has come off the bench to spark the Bearcats. He did start the Dayton game.

"We have been rotating four guards this season and are getting a lot of mileage out of them. The starting guards depend on our opponent and their personnel," Jucker said.

"Kenny did a fine job against Wichita last Saturday. We were far behind, but he led a rally in the second half to bring us within four points. But we fell short."

Starred In Wichita Game . . .

THE FORMER Potter great did not start the Wichita game, but his performance in that contest caused Wichita coach Gary Thompson to remark, "I am glad Cunningham didn't play any longer or Cincinnati would have beaten us. He has the quickest pair of hands of anyone I have seen in college basketball.

Jucker also was pleased with Cunningham's work in the Holiday Tournament against Bill Bradley of Princeton. "Kenny wasn't assigned to Bradley, but stole the ball from him several times when we double teamed him."

Cincinnati will have to play some outstanding basketball in order to overtake Wichita and St. Louis in the Missouri Valley Conference race.

The Bearcats are 1-1 in league play. St. Louis and Wichita lead the Conference with a 4-0. Cincinnati plays Bradley Saturday night.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ROCHESTER HIGH, coached by Jim Harris, who was the Potter basketball mentor last year, is on top of the Section 14 standings with a 3-0 record.

The Rams are the only undefeated team in the Section.

A FORMER East Liverpool man, with the help of his father, landed a 150-pound black bear while "deer" hunting recently in Florida. Finding a bear in the Central part of Florida was quite unusual.

Elmer Skelton Jr., who now resides in Inverness, Fla., was hunting with his father, of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

Young Skelton dropped the bear with a shotgun, using heavy shot. Only a few bears ever had been seen in that area of Florida.

LIMA SHAWNEE was ranked second in the state this week behind Canton McKinley, and we can see why. A look at the Lima lineup shows center Denton Sullivan standing 6-9 and two forwards, Adrian Zuber and Jeff Miller, at 6-5 each. The other two "dwarfs" are 6-2 Ron Cure and Rick Snider, who stands only 6 feet even.

12 Games Listed On District Card

Steubenville Big Red will offer a serious threat to East Liverpool's 5-game winning streak when the two rivals clash tonight at Memorial Auditorium in one of 12 games scheduled for district floors tonight.

Coach Frank Chan of the Potters doesn't plan any change in the starting lineup which has remained the same through the current winning streak.

THE POTTER coach has discovered in the last few contests that he can depend more on his bench with Ron Kinsey, Chuck Winters and Vern Smith turning in some key performances when called upon to fill in for the regulars.

As the season reaches the halfway point tonight, Terry Lawrence, the 6-4 forward, is leading the Potters in the scoring department with 108 markers in 8 games. During the win string, Lawrence has scored over 15 points in each game and was in the 20's on two occasions.

HE WILL be at one forward spot tonight along with Frank Taylor, Ben Springer, Bob Maltarich and Joe Massey.

Big Red owns a 4-3 record but two of the defeats were at the hands of Canton McKinley and Midland, both undefeated outfits.

Midland and Wellsville are idle tonight but Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers will play host to Oak Glen Saturday night.

With 12 contests on tap tonight, 10 more will be played Saturday.

—:—

OAK GLEN, fresh from a victory over Follansbee, travels to Benwood Union tonight seeking its fourth win in 8 starts.

Coach John Pape sends his Beaver Local five after its fifth victory tonight at Toronto. The league contest is a crucial one for the Beavers since the Red Knights are undefeated in Buckeye Border Conference play. Beaver Local shows a 1-1 mark in league competition.

—:—

STANTON Local, led by Larry Spires, will attempt to up its win streak to 4 games when Wintersville invades Stanton tonight. The Red Raiders have defeated Brilliant, Jefferson Union and Wayne in their last 3 outings.

Southern Local visits Crestview in what should be a close contest while Jackson-Milton is at United.

THE TRI-COUNTY schedule is full with East Palestine at Louisville facing a strong Leopard team, Lisbon visiting Poland, Minerva at Columbiana and Leetonia at Sebring.

In a Big 8 Conference game, Salem plays at Warren.

'Not Sure About Next Season'

Wilt May Retire Leaving 76ers Holding Empty Bag

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain might retire at the end of this National Basketball Association season, leaving the Philadelphia 76ers holding an empty money bag.

The 76ers paid a reported $75,000 Wednesday night to the San Francisco Warriors for the 7-foot-1 scoring machine. Philadelphia threw in a reserve center-forward with a recent history of fainting spells, one of the shortest guards in the league and a forward who has yet to play his first NBA minute this season.

Superficially, this sounds worse than it actually is for the Warriors. But if Chamberlain plays only the three remaining months of the season and retires at the ripe young age of 28, it's a financial bath for the 76ers without the bubbles.

"I told him he made a bad deal," Chamberlain said Thursday about Philadelphia co-owner Ike Richman. "I'm not sure how long I'll play.

"I take one year at a time," Chamberlain continued. "Right now, I'm not sure what I'll be doing next season."

Chamberlain said there were many reasons why he was considering retirement, but he didn't want to name them yet.

Richman, a close friend and lawyer of the highest paid NBA player, took an equally short sighted view from his Philadelphia law office.

"Wilt told me he would only talk about one year," said Richman. "That's all right with me.

"Let the future take care of itself, I know I have Chamberlain this year — definitely.

"I expect to have him for many more years. However, he has a right to do what he thinks is best for himself. And, when he makes that decision, when he wants to retire, we will always remain friends."

The Warriors play the New York Knicks in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium tonight without the services of two of their acquisitions and, perhaps, without the other.

Paul Neumann, the 6-foot-1 ex-Stanford star, said he might wait for the Warriors to come East. Lee Shaffer, who refused to play this season for the 76ers, definitely isn't in shape and probably won't be around. And Connie Dierking didn't appear for practice in San Francisco Thursday.

Chamberlain was given a week to rest, treat his broken nose and say goodby to friends in San Francisco. So the first game he plays for the 76ers could be against the Warriors.

Neumann, a hot-shooting guard, averaged 11.6 last season as a part-time player.

Shaffer, a 6-7 forward from North Carolina, averaged 13.1 last season and 18.6 the year before. Hannum said Shaffer could be one of the greatest players in the league but expressed some concern over his injured knee. They talked for hours last Sunday with the 76ers' permission.

Dierking, a 6-9 graduate of Cincinnati, suffered fainting spells this season. Medical tests failed to show anything physically wrong with him.

Mickey Wright Named Female Athlete Of '64

DALLAS (AP) — Golfer Mickey Wright is delighted to have been picked as the Female Athlete of the Year for the second straight time but she says she also is surprised.

"Naturally, I am delighted and honored. But I also was surprised. I didn't think I would win it a second time because 1964 was an Olympic year," she said Thursday night.

The 29-year-old blonde, who now has won more tournaments and more money than any other woman in pro golf, was the first choice of 118 voters on The Associated Press panel of about 250 sports writers and broadcasters.

With a total of 492 points, Miss Wright easily outdistanced Olympic swimmer Donna de Varona of Santa Barbara, Calif., who had 235 points for second place in the year-end poll.

Dawn Fraser, the Australian swimmer who won the Female Athlete of the Year Award in 1962, placed third, followed by tennis ace Billie Jean Moffitt and 15-year-old Olympic swimming star Sharon Stouder.

Despite an illness that kept her out ouf competition for a month, Miss Wright won 11 golf tournaments in 1964 to equal her 1963 record and was the leading ladies PGA money winner for the fourth straight year with $29,800.

Miss Wright has surpassed most of the golf records set by another Texan, the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias. But the Babe still holds the record for being chosen as Female Athlete of the Year in The AP poll. She won the honor six times — one for track and five times for golf.

Mickey, a former San Diego girl, who now makes her home in Dallas, will renew her lease on the Frederic C. Miller Memorial Trophy at the annual Fraternal Order of Eagles sports banquet in Milwaukee Feb. 14.

During her 10 years on the LPGA tour, Mickey has proved to be almost unbeatable. And she doesn't show any signs of slowing up.

"Since the tour ended in December, I have been traveling," Mickey said. "But play will resume March 18 and next week I start my practicing at the Oak Cliff Country Club."

End Tom Clarke, 6-foot-3 junior from Ridgewood, N. J., will captain Dartmouth's 1965 football team.

Gene Littler Has 2-Stroke Tourney Lead

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — There is a peculiar twist to the golfing career of Gene Littler, who led the way into the second round of the $34,500 San Diego Open today.

Littler won the San Diego tournament in 1954 when he was still an amateur. But in the view of his hometown San Diego worshipers he has done little in their San Diego Open as a professional.

Of course, all Gene has done outside the county is win the U. S. Open, the rich Las Vegas Tournament of Champions three straight years, many other events and amassed a tidy nest egg.

But the San Diego Open, nothing.

Littler shot a nine-under-par 62, a competitive course record in Thursday's first round. He did it with a sensational putting performance in 30-32-62 over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Despite the great round, it gave Gene only a two-stroke cushion over his nearest challenger, Bud Holscher, with Holscher's 32-32—64.

Three strokes back were Tony Lema, certainly a dangerous threat, and Al Besselink, who hasn't been shooting too many scores of 65 lately.

Christian, Jones Lead East Victory

Mitchell Jones and Bruce Christian combined for 34 points in East Junior High's 54-28 victory over Steubenville Grant Thursday at East Junior.

Leading 25-19 after a close first half, the Panthers outscored Steubenville 18-4 in the third period to take a commanding 43-23 margin at the end of the quarter.

Jones poured in 18 points and Christian hit for 16 while Ray Boyd scored 10. Carter and Styles had 8 points each for Steubenville.

East Junior plays Tuesday afternoon at Wellsville.

'Not Sure About Next Season'

Wilt May Retire Leaving 76ers Holding Empty Bag

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain might retire at the end of this National Basketball Association season, leaving the Philadelphia 76ers holding an empty money bag.

The 76ers paid a reported $75,000 Wednesday night to the San Francisco Warriors for the 7-foot-1 scoring machine. Philadelphia threw in a reserve center-forward with a recent history of fainting spells, one of the shortest guards in the league and a forward who has yet to play his first NBA minute this season.

Superficially, this sounds worse than it actually is for the Warriors. But if Chamberlain plays only the three remaining months of the season and retires at the ripe young age of 28, it's a financial bath for the 76ers without the bubbles.

"I told him he made a bad deal," Chamberlain said Thursday about Philadelphia co-owner Ike Richman. "I'm not sure how long I'll play.

"I take one year at a time," Chamberlain continued. "Right now, I'm not sure what I'll be doing next season."

Chamberlain said there were many reasons why he was considering retirement, but he didn't want to name them yet.

Richman, a close friend and lawyer of the highest paid NBA player, took an equally short sighted view from his Philadelphia law office.

"Wilt told me he would only talk about one year," said Richman. "That's all right with me.

"Let the future take care of itself, I know I have Chamberlain this year — definitely.

"I expect to have him for many more years. However, he has a right to do what he thinks is best for himself. And, when he makes that decision, when he wants to retire, we will always remain friends."

The Warriors play the New York Knicks in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium tonight without the services of two of their acquisitions and, perhaps, without the other.

Paul Neumann, the 6-foot-1 ex-Stanford star, said he might wait for the Warriors to come East. Lee Shaffer, who refused to play this season for the 76ers, definitely isn't in shape and probably won't be around. And Connie Dierking didn't appear for practice in San Francisco Thursday.

Chamberlain was given a week to rest, treat his broken nose and say goodby to friends in San Francisco. So the first game he plays for the 76ers could be against the Warriors.

Neumann, a hot-shooting guard, averaged 11.6 last season as a part-time player.

Shaffer, a 6-7 forward from North Carolina, averaged 13.1 last season and 18.6 the year before. Hannum said Shaffer could be one of the greatest players in the league but expressed some concern over his injured knee. They talked for hours last Sunday with the 76ers' permission.

Dierking, a 6-9 graduate of Cincinnati, suffered fainting spells this season. Medical tests failed to show anything physically wrong with him.

Mickey Wright Named Female Athlete Of '64

DALLAS (AP) — Golfer Mickey Wright is delighted to have been picked as the Female Athlete of the Year for the second straight time but she says she also is surprised.

"Naturally, I am delighted and honored. But I also was surprised. I didn't think I would win it a second time because 1964 was an Olympic year," she said Thursday night.

The 29-year-old blonde, who now has won more tournaments and more money than any other woman in pro golf, was the first choice of 118 voters on The Associated Press panel of about 250 sports writers and broadcasters.

With a total of 492 points, Miss Wright easily outdistanced Olympic swimmer Donna de Varona of Santa Barbara, Calif., who had 235 points for second place in the year-end poll.

Dawn Fraser, the Australian swimmer who won the Female Athlete of the Year Award in 1962, placed third, followed by tennis ace Billie Jean Moffitt and 15-year-old Olympic swimming star Sharon Stouder.

Despite an illness that kept her out ouf competition for a month, Miss Wright won 11 golf tournaments in 1964 to equal her 1963 record and was the leading ladies PGA money winner for the fourth straight year with $29,800.

Miss Wright nas surpassed most of the golf records set by another Texan, the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias. But the Babe still holds the record for being chosen as Female Athlete of the Year in The AP poll. She won the honor six times — one for track and five times for golf.

Mickey, a former San Diego girl, who now makes her home in Dallas, will renew her lease on the Frederic C. Miller Memorial Trophy at the annual Fraternal Order of Eagles sports banquet in Milwaukee Feb. 14.

During her 10 years on the LPGA tour, Mickey has proved to be almost unbeatable. And she doesn't show any signs of slowing up.

"Since the tour ended in December, I have been traveling," Mickey said. "But play will resume March 18 and next week I start my practicing at the Oak Cliff Country Club."

End Tom Clarke, 6-foot-3 junior from Ridgewood, N. J., will captain Dartmouth's 1965 football team.

Gene Littler Has 2-Stroke Tourney Lead

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — There is a peculiar twist to the golfing career of Gene Littler, who led the way into the second round of the $34,500 San Diego Open today.

Littler won the San Diego tournament in 1954 when he was still an amateur. But in the view of his hometown San Diego worshipers he has done little in their San Diego Open as a professional.

Of course, all Gene has done outside the county is win the U. S. Open, the rich Las Vegas Tournament of Champions three straight years, many other events and amassed a tidy nest egg.

But the San Diego Open, nothing.

Littler shot a nine-under-par 62, a competitive course record in Thursday's first round. He did it with a sensational putting performance in 30-32-62 over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Despite the great round, it gave Gene only a two-stroke cushion over his nearest challenger, Bud Holscher, with Holscher's 32-32—64.

Three strokes back were Tony Lema, certainly a dangerous threat, and Al Besselink, who hasn't been shooting too many scores of 65 lately.

Christian, Jones Lead East Victory

Mitchell Jones and Bruce Christian combined for 34 points in East Junior High's 54-28 victory over Steubenville Grant Thursday at East Junior.

Leading 25-19 after a close first half, the Panthers outscored Steubenville 18-4 in the third period to take a commanding 43-23 margin at the end of the quarter.

Jones poured in 18 points and Christian hit for 16 while Ray Boyd scored 10. Carter and Styles had 8 points each for Steubenville.

East Junior plays Tuesday afternoon at Wellsville.

Richardson Signs, Gets Small Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Richardson, first New York Yankee to sign his 1965 contract, said today the firing of Yogi Berra as Yankee manager came as a "shock" to him but at the same time he was looking forward to playing under Johnny Keane.

"Everything I've heard about Keane has been good," said the American League's All-Star second baseman. "He has an excellent knowledge of the game and he is a fellow who commands respect — in a quiet way.

"I had the opportunity of observing him on one occasion. That was a number of years ago when I played for him in an American Association All-Star game. He left a lasting impression upon me."

Richardson, who signed for an estimated $35,000, which General Manager Ralph Houk said represented a "modest" raise, acknowledged he had given serious thought to quitting baseball at the end of the 1964 season.

"I've changed my mind," he said smilingly. "Rather, Houk changed it for me.

Bobby, who won't be 30 until August, led the American League in at bats last year, 679, while hitting .267. He had the most hits on the club, 181, and set a World Series record of 13 hits although the Yankees lost it in seven games to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds announced the signing of outfielders Vada Pinson and Tommy Harper and pitcher Bill Henry while pitcher Milt Pappas signed with Baltimore and catcher Gus Triandos returned his signed contract to Philadelphia.

Agreement Reached To Cut Power Rates

CLEVELAND (AP) — An agreement to slice $3 million annually from the consumer rates of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. has been reached by negotiators for the utility and City Council. The average CEI customer in northeastern Ohio will save at least three dollars a year under the new rates.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who had insisted that CEI cut its rates at least $3.6 million a year, said after the agreement was reached late Thursday that he would go along with the compromise. Under suspension of its rules, Council could approve the new rates as early as next Monday night. If this is done the lower rates would go into effect next week.

Court Held In Auto In 12 Below Weather

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Judge Edwin P. Chapman held court in the back seat of a car Thursday in 12 degree below zero weather.

Behind the steering wheel was Ernest B. Poegel, 41, who pleaded guilty to going through a stop sign. Poegel, a cripple, would have had to be carried into Municipal Court if the judge hadn't donned his overcoat and gone outside to hear the case.

Poegel was fined $25.

People's Hunger For Holiness Is Cited In Drinking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — D. C. McClelland, a professor of psychology at Harvard, has come up with what may be a new answer to the age-old question: Why do people drink?

Says McClelland:

People drink because of a "hunger for holiness."

The Harvard professor, here to give a series of lectures at the University of Southern California, said he had fed alcohol to volunteers and found that they thought mostly about life, death, and eternity.

"Since it is religion that provides answers to such soul-searching questions it is possible that is why many religions are against liquor," he told an interviewer Thursday. "They see it as a competition."

McClelland said he found other common post-drinking concerns were sex, physical aggression, and health.

Collision Probe Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Examiner Henry J. Viskey of the Interstate Commerce Commission will open a hearing in Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 25 on this week's train collision at Sterling, Ohio, which killed five crewmen. Court Held In Auto In 12 Below Weather

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Judge Edwin P. Chapman held court in the back seat of a car Thursday in 12 degree below zero weather.

Behind the steering wheel was Ernest B. Poegel, 41, who pleaded guilty to going through a stop sign. Poegel, a cripple, would have had to be carried into Municipal Court if the judge hadn't donned his overcoat and gone outside to hear the case.

Poegel was fined $25.

People's Hunger For Holiness Is Cited In Drinking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — D. C. McClelland, a professor of psychology at Harvard, has come up with what may be a new answer to the age-old question: Why do people drink?

Says McClelland:

People drink because of a "hunger for holiness."

The Harvard professor, here to give a series of lectures at the University of Southern California, said he had fed alcohol to volunteers and found that they thought mostly about life, death, and eternity.

"Since it is religion that provides answers to such soul-searching questions it is possible that is why many religions are against liquor," he told an interviewer Thursday. "They see it as a competition."

McClelland said he found other common post-drinking concerns were sex, physical aggression, and health.

Can Another Baby Save Joey?

The creators of TV family situation comedy gradually are working up to having a baby born on camera, with a special cast credit for the attending obstetrician. More than a decade ago there was little Ricky's arrival on "I Love Lucy," and via flashback we got to see the night Ritchie was born to the Petries on the "Dick Van Dyke Show." Last season Abby Dalton went a step further by not only having her own baby, but introducing it on the "Joey Bishop Show" five weeks later as Joey Junior. (Lucy's own Ricky wasn't put in her series until he was big enough to play a set of trap drums.)

Hal Humphrey

-:-

NEXT WEEK Abby is scheduled to go to the hospital for her second child with TV husband Joey Bishop and a complete camera crew. Naturally, Abby's real husband, Jack Smith, also will be there to help pace the floor.

"The doc says Jan. 22 is the day, and that's a Friday. I just hope she doesn't take us into the golden hours," says Joey, referring to the double - time charged by film unions on weekends.

When I asked Joey why he was carrying things this far (actually going to the hospital and all), his reply was, "It brought you around, didn't it?"

It did, of course, but I was around when the late Gorgeous George first wrestled on TV, so Joey shouldn't feel too flattered.

VIEWERS won't be taken into the delivery room when they see this episode of the Bishop show next April or May, but they will witness Joey standing in front of the maternity ward nursery at the hospital, while a nurse holds up Abby's new-born babe and Joey and a few million viewers sigh, "Oooh!"

The sequences leading up to this climactic scene were filmed a few weeks ago. Joey and Ellie (Abby) get into a domestic argument over his wanting another boy. Just before the final commercial she is taken to the hospital.

"We had to shoot two endings," explains Joey. "The nurse says, 'It's a girl' in one, and 'It's a boy' in the other. At the very end I apologize to Ellie if it's a boy, and she apologizes to me if it's a girl."

-:-

FOR SHEER PATHOS and drama it is doubtful if Joey and Abby can take the Emmy award away from "Peyton Place" this year, but if it just boosts their rating 2 points, that could be the difference between a renewal or cancellation.

"What happens," I had to ask, "if your show is canceled after Abby has had another baby and you've gone over budget with the hospital scene?"

"We simply wrap the baby up in a tattered blanket, put him in a basket and leave him at Jim Aubrey's doorstep," says Joey.

Aubrey, for the benefit of the uninformed, is president of CBS-TV and the man who will decide if Joey and Abby continue to play house on his TV network next season.

-:-

JOEY SAYS he will kill himself if the series is canceled, but he kids like that all the time.

"Actually, I don't really care one way or the other. I've had four seasons, and that's a pretty good run. I could spend next year just paying off obligations anyway," he adds.

"What kind of obligations?" asks the straight man.

"Well, I owe the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas six weeks, because I've been too busy with the series to appear there. The same at the Copacabana in New York and at Harrah's in Tahoe.

-:-

"YOU DON'T REALIZE how many hours a week we put in here at the studio. I am now keeping the hours which I got into show business not to keep."

"Any other obligations?"

"Yes. I have two airline tickets for a trip around the world I won eight years ago on the Kathryn Murray show, and my wife keeps packing our bags. She still thinks we're going."

ACTRESS-SINGER DIES. Jeanette MacDonald, 57, who co-starred with Nelson Eddy in a team that became a byword for Hollywood musicals in the 1930s, died of a heart ailment Thursday at Houston, Texas. Jeanette MacDonald, 57, Singer-Actress, Claimed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Gene Raymond makes a mournful journey to Hollywood today with the body of his wife, Jeanette MacDonald, lovely songbird of a lilting era in American movies who died of a heart ailment in Houston Thursday. She was 57.

Her death brought an end to a brilliant stage and film career and to her 27-year marriage — a childless one. Her last words to Raymond came in a Houston hospital, where she had been flown Tuesday to undergo heart surgery.

"I love you," she whispered.

"I love you, too," he replied.

She died a few minutes later.

The auburn-haired soprano had left her Beverly Hills home in serious but not critical condition as the result of a longtime cardiovascular ailment.

She had been operated upon in June 1963 by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, who recently performed abdominal surgery on the Duke of Windsor. In December, she had an operation for abdominal adhesions at UCLA Medical Center.

She arrived in Houston by commercial airliner Tuesday and was rushed to Methodist Hospital by ambulance. Because of her weakened condition, open-heart surgery was postponed, a Hollywood spokesman said. She was being fed intravenously when she died.

Nelson Eddy, Miss MacDonald's partner in a series of melodic films from "Naughty Marietta" (1935) to "I Married an Angel" (1942), said he was "shocked and deeply distressed" to learn of her death.

Eddy once scotched the rumor that the Eddy-MacDonald team was as chilly in real life as another musical partnership, Gilbert and Sullivan.

"There never was a feud," he declared.

Miss MacDonald's career also paired with other top stars — Clark Gable in "San Francisco," Maurice Chevalier in "Love Me Tonight," and "The Merry Widow," Allan Jones in "The Firefly" and Lew Ayres in "Broadway Serenade."

She was born in Philadelphia. She began singing and dancing at an early age, and first found success as a dancer. While appearing in Broadway revues she continued vocal lessons and reached stardom as a singer.

When sound came in, movie studios were seeking musical talent, and Miss MacDonald was signed by Paramount for an early talkie opposite Chevalier in "The Love Parade."

Since the start of the fiscal year July 1, taxes on car sales in the county total $382,701, an increase of $25,451 from the $357,250 listed at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

County sales taxes from other sources hit $36,461 in the two weeks ending Jan. 1, off $3,354 from the $39,815 listed in the comparable period a year ago. The collections stand at $662,310 since the start of the fiscal year July 1, off $10,355 from the $672,663 shown at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Can Another Baby Save Joey?

The creators of TV family situation comedy gradually are working up to having a baby born on camera, with a special cast credit for the attending obstetrician. More than a decade ago there was little Ricky's arrival on "I Love Lucy," and via flashback we got to see the night Ritchie was born to the Petries on the "Dick Van Dyke Show." Last season Abby Dalton went a step further by not only having her own baby, but introducing it on the "Joey Bishop Show" five weeks later as Joey Junior. (Lucy's own Ricky wasn't put in her series until he was big enough to play a set of trap drums.)

-:-

NEXT WEEK Abby is scheduled to go to the hospital for her second child with TV husband Joey Bishop and a complete camera crew. Naturally, Abby's real husband, Jack Smith, also will be there to help pace the floor.

"The doc says Jan. 22 is the day, and that's a Friday. I just hope she doesn't take us into the golden hours," says Joey, referring to the double - time charged by film unions on weekends.

When I asked Joey why he was carrying things this far (actually going to the hospital and all), his reply was, "It brought you around, didn't it?"

It did, of course, but I was around when the late Gorgeous George first wrestled on TV, so Joey shouldn't feel too flattered.

VIEWERS won't be taken into the delivery room when they see this episode of the Bishop show next April or May, but they will witness Joey standing in front of the maternity ward nursery at the hospital, while a nurse holds up Abby's new-born babe and Joey and a few million viewers sigh, "Oooh!"

The sequences leading up to this climactic scene were filmed a few weeks ago. Joey and Ellie (Abby) get into a domestic argument over his wanting another boy. Just before the final commercial she is taken to the hospital.

"We had to shoot two endings," explains Joey. "The nurse says, 'It's a girl' in one, and 'It's a boy' in the other. At the very end I apologize to Ellie if it's a boy, and she apologizes to me if it's a girl."

-:-

FOR SHEER PATHOS and drama it is doubtful if Joey and Abby can take the Emmy award away from "Peyton Place" this year, but if it just boosts their rating 2 points, that could be the difference between a renewal or cancellation.

"What happens," I had to ask, "if your show is canceled after Abby has had another baby and you've gone over budget with the hospital scene?"

"We simply wrap the baby up in a tattered blanket, put him in a basket and leave him at Jim Aubrey's doorstep," says Joey.

Aubrey, for the benefit of the uninformed, is president of CBS-TV and the man who will decide if Joey and Abby continue to play house on his TV network next season.

-:-

JOEY SAYS he will kill himself if the series is canceled, but he kids like that all the time.

"Actually, I don't really care one way or the other. I've had four seasons, and that's a pretty good run. I could spend next year just paying off obligations anyway," he adds.

"What kind of obligations?" asks the straight man.

"Well, I owe the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas six weeks, because I've been too busy with the series to appear there. The same at the Copacabana in New York and at Harrah's in Tahoe.

-:-

"YOU DON'T REALIZE how many hours a week we put in here at the studio. I am now keeping the hours which I got into show business not to keep."

"Any other obligations?"

"Yes. I have two airline tickets for a trip around the world I won eight years ago on the Kathryn Murray show, and my wife keeps packing our bags. She still thinks we're going."

ACTRESS-SINGER DIES. Jeanette MacDonald, 57, who co-starred with Nelson Eddy in a team that became a byword for Hollywood musicals in the 1930s, died of a heart ailment Thursday at Houston, Texas. Jeanette MacDonald, 57, Singer-Actress, Claimed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Gene Raymond makes a mournful journey to Hollywood today with the body of his wife, Jeanette MacDonald, lovely songbird of a lilting era in American movies who died of a heart ailment in Houston Thursday. She was 57.

Her death brought an end to a brilliant stage and film career and to her 27-year marriage — a childless one. Her last words to Raymond came in a Houston hospital, where she had been flown Tuesday to undergo heart surgery.

"I love you," she whispered.

"I love you, too," he replied.

She died a few minutes later.

The auburn-haired soprano had left her Beverly Hills home in serious but not critical condition as the result of a longtime cardiovascular ailment.

She had been operated upon in June 1963 by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, who recently performed abdominal surgery on the Duke of Windsor. In December, she had an operation for abdominal adhesions at UCLA Medical Center.

She arrived in Houston by commercial airliner Tuesday and was rushed to Methodist Hospital by ambulance. Because of her weakened condition, open-heart surgery was postponed, a Hollywood spokesman said. She was being fed intravenously when she died.

Nelson Eddy, Miss MacDonald's partner in a series of melodic films from "Naughty Marietta" (1935) to "I Married an Angel" (1942), said he was "shocked and deeply distressed" to learn of her death.

Eddy once scotched the rumor that the Eddy-MacDonald team was as chilly in real life as another musical partnership, Gilbert and Sullivan.

"There never was a feud," he declared.

Miss MacDonald's career also paired with other top stars — Clark Gable in "San Francisco," Maurice Chevalier in "Love Me Tonight," and "The Merry Widow," Allan Jones in "The Firefly" and Lew Ayres in "Broadway Serenade."

She was born in Philadelphia. She began singing and dancing at an early age, and first found success as a dancer. While appearing in Broadway revues she continued vocal lessons and reached stardom as a singer.

When sound came in, movie studios were seeking musical talent, and Miss MacDonald was signed by Paramount for an early talkie opposite Chevalier in "The Love Parade."

County sales taxes from other sources hit $36,461 in the two weeks ending Jan. 1, off $3,354 from the $39,815 listed in the comparable period a year ago. The collections stand at $662,310 since the start of the fiscal year July 1, off $10,355 from the $672,663 shown at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

Brazil Picture Seen Bright For U.S. Firms

CLEVELAND (AP)—The picture is getting brighter for American businessmen in Brazil, said Juracy Magalhaes, that country's ambassador to the United States, at a news conference Thursday following a luncheon for him and Lincoln Gordon, U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

"In the whole of our history, we have not had a better government than the one that took over in the bloodless revolution of March, 1964," Magahlhaes said. "We are combating communism," he said. "We are trying to control inflation. We are in the same boat with you in trying to construct a good life."

The first successful Atlantic telegraph cable was laid by Cyrus W. Field in 1866, after many earlier attempts to lay such a cable had failed. The earlier cables often broke because they could not carry their own weight when they were being laid in deep water. Field's cable was laid from Newfoundland to Ireland.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The picture is getting brighter for American businessmen in Brazil, said Juracy Magalhaes, that country's ambassador to the United States, at a news conference Thursday following a luncheon for him and Lincoln Gordon, U.S. ambassador to Brazil.

"In the whole of our history, we have not had a better government than the one that took over in the bloodless revolution of March, 1964," Magahlhaes said. "We are combating communism," he said. "We are trying to control inflation. We are in the same boat with you in trying to construct a good life."

The first successful Atlantic telegraph cable was laid by Cyrus W. Field in 1866, after many earlier attempts to lay such a cable had failed. The earlier cables often broke because they could not carry their own weight when they were being laid in deep water. Field's cable was laid from Newfoundland to Ireland.

OFF THE RECORD

"Maybe I'm crazy, but I think some of Mozart's music is pretty good."

The Sonic Boom

The sonic boom of airliners passing over at nearly 2,000 miles an hour may become as familiar in the future as the rattle of the streetcar was in the past.

But the noise factor is discouraging development of the superjets, which might whisk passengers from Washington to Paris in about two hours. Aircraft engineers know how to build the craft, but they don't know how to keep them quiet.

The sonic boom occurs when an airplane is flying faster than sound (about 660 miles an hour).

All bodies moving through air create disturbances which radiate outward at the speed of sound. However, a supersonic plane proceeds through the air faster than the disturbances it is creating, and the result is the formation of shock waves.

As the plane races across the sky, a huge cone of shock waves follows like a wake. When the shock waves hit a person on the ground, he momentarily hears a sound likened to a thunderclap or a loud pistol shot.

Since it seems unavoidable, the sonic boom has considerably dampened enthusiasm for supersonic airliners. A six-month test using military supersonic planes over Oklahoma City in 1964 produced thousands of complaints. The tests seemed to confirm, however, that the low-boom intensities expected with supersonic transport operations do not cause direct physical harm to human beings or structural damage to houses.

Odd Facts

During the past 11 years, the United States has progressed from the 70-foot-tall Redstone rocket to the 164-foot Saturn I, with 20 times more thrust at lift-off. Saturn V, the moon rocket, will be 100 times more powerful than that first Redstone.

The dollar was fixed as the unit of currency in the United States by Act of Congress on April 6, 1792.

Junior Editors Quiz on WHALES

QUESTION: If the whale was once a land animal, why did it take to the sea?

ANSWER: When we think of the whale as a land animal, we are apt to conceive of something like the purely imaginative monster at the top — which nexer existed. Scientists tell us that whales did come from four-footed land animals. In many whales, there are tiny bones out of sight where the hind legs used to be. Whales are warm blooded and give milk to their young just like land mammals. Futhermore, whales show traces of hair, which is something only developed by land animals. But scientists do not know just what the whale's land ancestors looked like or why they left the land or the stages of change to their present shape. The best we can do is guess, and that's what we're going to do. We show three present-day creatures which, linked together, might suggest how whales changed. We are not saying that whales actually developed from these creature's ancestors. We use them only as suggestions. Such an animal as the hairy, short-legged wolverine might have developed an appetite for fish, turned into a shorter-haired streamlined creature like the sea otter, then into something resembling a seal and finally into the present whale form. The fact that the water held him up allowed the whale to grow to his present enormous size.

FOR YOU TO DO: Our artist has had fun drawing his imaginative four-footed whale. Have some fun with your own imagination. Draw a flying whale with wings.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm so ashamed of my problem I can't discuss it with anyone.

My husband is 40. We have three children. Every evening my husband races the kids to the bathtub and uses all the hot water. He likes to sit in the tub and let the water run — leaving the drain open. He says he enjoys the "waves" created by the running water. I wouldn't swear to it but I think he also floats the baby's rubber duck.

When the kids take their baths I have to heat water on the stove and carry it upstairs, which is a lot of bother. I've asked my husband to be more considerate of me and the children but he sulks and refuses to answer.

Is there a solution to this? — STUMPED.

Dear Stumped: You need a larger water heater — and you need it now. Put this on the top of your "must have" list and cut corners elsewhere to get it if necessary.

A 40-year-old man who is still playing with rubber ducks is not likely to approach any problem in a mature manner, so work it out alone.

Business Party

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been playing bridge with a certain couple for over 12 years. They are superb bridge players and so are we. The four of us are serious players and there is very little social chatter or foolishness.

We have a set game every Thursday night and when we play cards we mean business. It isn't uncommon for $40 or $50 to change hands in an evening.

A few days ago I learned that this couple had an elegant dinner party at their club. More than 40 couples were present. My husband and I were not invited. I'm deeply hurt.

Shall I tell them at our next card game that if we aren't good enough to be invited to their parties we aren't good enough to play cards with them? — GRAND SLAM.

Dear Grand: The answer is in your letter. You said, "When we play cards we mean business." Well, they mean business, too, and that's what the relationship means to them.

If you enjoy matching skills with this couple, continue to play cards with them but recognize the fact that you are not social friends.

Family Fright

Dear Ann: Am I mentally ill or what? Whenever I see my family coming up the walk to visit me I want to run to the back of the house and hide. I know it isn't right to feel this way about a mother and two sisters but I do. My husband's family, on the other hand, is wonderful. I love them and they love me.

My childhood memories are nightmarish. There was always a fight at our dinner table. My sisters were mean to me and I hated them. They wore my clothes, took money out of my purse and made me do their work. I left home at 16 and only then did I find peace of mind.

Now that we are all grown and married, I know these feelings should be cast aside, but they still haunt me. I get physically ill when I'm around these relatives. What is the solution? — B.D.F.

Dear B.D.F.: Understanding and forgiving are marks of maturity. If you have been unable to conquer your hostility, stop pretending and stop feeling guilty.

Many people dislike their relatives — often justifiably. To feel one way and behave another way is what makes people sick. See as little of the clan as possible. When you can deal more honestly with your relatives they will not make you ill.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

Use Of Good Grammar Can Be Learned

Regardless of how little formal education a person has, he may use excellent grammar as he speaks. He may have associated with other persons who speak accurately. Or he may have read a great deal. Anybody who cares to do so may learn to speak grammatically.

Dr. Garry Myers

Children who live in homes where they hear English spoken accurately may rarely make errors in grammar after the age of five or six.

Of course, some children of the early grades, even of high school, who grow up in highly cultivated homes, pick up some ungrammatical expressions. But if their homes are companionable places, they usually choose to emulate good speech heard there.

Often parents are vexed at ungrammatical speech in their children. If you have this problem, you hardly will do best to solve it by constantly interrupting your child and nagging at him about his ungrammatical speech. A quiet suggestion of the right way to say it after your child has finished his remarks, some of them ungrammatical, may bring good results. Your children and mine want to prove they are growing up and they discover as time passes that accuracy of speech helps to show they are maturing.

WHEN WE often interrupt the child to correct his grammar we vex him greatly. This vexation may cause him not only to refuse to be cautious about his grammar but to choose on purpose to speak ungrammatically. He may be most annoyed at us when we correct him before other persons, especially his close friends. You can imagine how incensed you, yourself, would feel if an adult, especially of the family, corrected a slip by you in grammar, in the presence of other persons.

Sometimes a wife or husband making an error in grammar is corrected by the mate. How humiliating and excruciating this can be. Occasionally a wife or husband is very sensitive about his or her errors in grammar. When the spouse who speaks correctly proceeds to correct the other spouse, the effect can be disastrous to their relationship since it magnifies an attitude of superiority by the corrector.

Often then the one corrected may have personal qualities far superior to those of the "correcting" spouse. It's such a delicate matter. It may be relatively unimportant, indeed, in comparison with bigger ones.

ANY SPOUSE or other person wishing to acquire speech grammatically correct may do so by listening carefully to the speech of others who seem to speak correctly. Also by a great deal of reading. The person who constantly reads may not need to worry about the correctness of his or her grammar or even feel the need of studying grammar. However, if this person chooses to study grammar he may enjoy some gains.

In order to help persons who are sensitive about their grammatical command and to provide similar help for children who wish to cooperate, I have prepared a simple, practical bulletin giving the right way and the wrong way of everyday expressions, including the types which are frequent annoyers.

This bulletin, "Common Grammatical Mistakes by Parents and Children," may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm so ashamed of my problem I can't discuss it with anyone.

My husband is 40. We have three children. Every evening my husband races the kids to the bathtub and uses all the hot water. He likes to sit in the tub and let the water run — leaving the drain open. He says he enjoys the "waves" created by the running water. I wouldn't swear to it but I think he also floats the baby's rubber duck.

When the kids take their baths I have to heat water on the stove and carry it upstairs, which is a lot of bother. I've asked my husband to be more considerate of me and the children but he sulks and refuses to answer.

Is there a solution to this? — STUMPED.

Dear Stumped: You need a larger water heater — and you need it now. Put this on the top of your "must have" list and cut corners elsewhere to get it if necessary.

A 40-year-old man who is still playing with rubber ducks is not likely to approach any problem in a mature manner, so work it out alone.

Business Party

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been playing bridge with a certain couple for over 12 years. They are superb bridge players and so are we. The four of us are serious players and there is very little social chatter or foolishness.

We have a set game every Thursday night and when we play cards we mean business. It isn't uncommon for $40 or $50 to change hands in an evening.

A few days ago I learned that this couple had an elegant dinner party at their club. More than 40 couples were present. My husband and I were not invited. I'm deeply hurt.

Shall I tell them at our next card game that if we aren't good enough to be invited to their parties we aren't good enough to play cards with them? — GRAND SLAM.

Dear Grand: The answer is in your letter. You said, "When we play cards we mean business." Well, they mean business, too, and that's what the relationship means to them.

If you enjoy matching skills with this couple, continue to play cards with them but recognize the fact that you are not social friends.

Family Fright

Dear Ann: Am I mentally ill or what? Whenever I see my family coming up the walk to visit me I want to run to the back of the house and hide. I know it isn't right to feel this way about a mother and two sisters but I do. My husband's family, on the other hand, is wonderful. I love them and they love me.

My childhood memories are nightmarish. There was always a fight at our dinner table. My sisters were mean to me and I hated them. They wore my clothes, took money out of my purse and made me do their work. I left home at 16 and only then did I find peace of mind.

Now that we are all grown and married, I know these feelings should be cast aside, but they still haunt me. I get physically ill when I'm around these relatives. What is the solution? — B.D.F.

Dear B.D.F.: Understanding and forgiving are marks of maturity. If you have been unable to conquer your hostility, stop pretending and stop feeling guilty.

Many people dislike their relatives — often justifiably. To feel one way and behave another way is what makes people sick. See as little of the clan as possible. When you can deal more honestly with your relatives they will not make you ill.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
